

Greek Food Festival Salutes Over 2500 Years Of Greek Heritage

The summer of 1984 will bring to America the spirit of Olympic athletic competition. The nations of the world will converge in Los Angeles to relive the ancient Greek heritage of the Olympic Games.

On Mother's Day, May 13, 1984, another spectacular event will take place at the Sahara Space Center. On this day a bright burning flame erected at St. John's Greek Orthodox Church will ignite a symbolic torch which will be ran through the streets of Las Vegas to the site of the Greek Food Festival. The torch will pass its burning brightness to become the flame which will begin Greek Food Festival activities for one day of fun, Greek music and entertainment, bazaar and great Greek food prepared by the Greek community.

"An ancient heritage lives on" will be the theme of this year's Greek Food Festival, which brings together many thousands of Southern Nevadans to celebrate what has become a community tradition enjoyed by all. The hellenic food will again be prepared for your appetites by the Greek women of St. John's. The Souvlakia (shish-kabob), Loukaniko (Greek Sausage), Dolmathes (grape leaves stuffed with meat and rice), and other Greek foods will compliment delicious pastries such as Baklava and Kourabiedes.

The Greek community is proud of their heritage that brought to the world the Olympic Games. They are also very proud of the hard work and determination that has made the Greek Food Festival one of the greatest festivals in America. The most deserving accolade, however, should go to the business community and individuals of Las Vegas who make it all possible. This support is typical of one of the greatest cities in the world, and exemplifies the pride and spirit that unfolds another bright side of Las Vegas.

"An ancient heritage lives on", and because of the Las Vegas community, the Greek Food Festival lives on.

NEW YORK (WNS) — Governor Mario Cuomo paid tribute to "the valor of those who resisted the Nazis against impossible odds" and to those "engaged in the sacred task of remembrance," as he accepted the post of honorary chairman of the New York State Society for Yad Vashem in a recent meeting here. Cuomo was presented with a replica of the plans by Yad Vashem, Israel's Holocaust of Remembrance Authority, to build "The Valley of the Destroyed Communities" on eight acres of land at Yad Vashem as a memorial to the 5,000 communities destroyed by the Nazis.
