

Minyonaire News

By Herb Brown

On Saturday afternoon of PURIM weekend The Coblenz Chapel was quiet and peaceful until the Minyonaires created excitement similar to a spine tingling ST. PATRICK day parade. The Minyonaires celebrated their heroes and heroines in a style that both St. Patrick and Queen Esther would have been justly proud. Instead of corned beef and cabbage Saturday eve March 17 the Minyonaires celebrated with the traditional Garbanzo Beans, peppered and salted to a new taste tingling sensation, herring, choleh, and all the other delicacies and goodies that makes a knosh feel like a gastronomic delight. The Megillah was read, and under Cantor Joseph Cohen and Rabbi Lederman and Cantor Bergman, a joyous time was had by all who attended.

On Sunday the Minyonaires outdid themselves again by having a Purim party in the new FORMANGLICK SANCTUARY OF THE COBLENTZ CHAPEL. After afternoon services, The Minyonaires set up tables in the sanctuary and like magic appeared sumptuous delicacies that conquered even the most discriminating taste. Hamon-Toshen freshly baked by Rancho Bakers especially for this occasion, fresh fruit salad, and many other goodies were washed down with imported and local champagne and cocktails. Celebrities who couldn't attend but sent their best wishes to The Minyonaires, makes out a guest list that comprises the top of the Las Vegas Social register. How's this for dignitaries: Morris Shenker, Ken Epstein, Alvin Benedict, Jerry Gordon, Jeff Silver, Senators Hecht and Laxalt, and last but not least our own GOVERNOR RICHARD BRYAN. Sorry you couldn't make the bash men — maybe next time.

To add to the merriment near the end of the Purim party all who remained were invited to THE FABULOUS DUNES for coffee and —. Your writer has only one last thing to add — this was a fantastic party enjoyed by all who attended and will be remembered for a long, long time.

Minyonaires Queen Esther Medal of Honor goes to FRAN LEVIEN, JUDY BROWN, AND BLANCHE SCHWARTZ FOR THEIR HARD WORK TOWARDS MAKING THIS PARTY A SUCCESS. THANKS LADIES. TO US YOU ARE INDEED ROYALTY.

The big question is now "WHO KNOWS WHAT THE MINYONAIRES WILL DO FOR PASSOVER"?

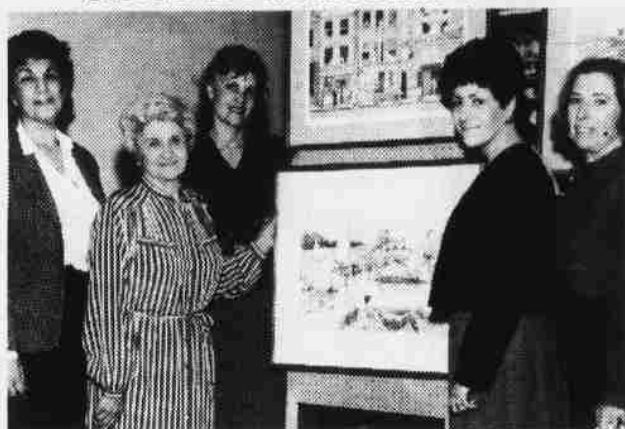

Don't Miss "Legends In Concert" At Imperial Palace

Mack Jordan recreates legendary crooner Nat "King" Cole in hit show Legends in Concert at the Imperial Palace. Showtimes are 8 and 11 p.m. nightly except Sundays.

NEW YORK (WNS) — Zakhar Zunshain, a Riga activist, has been charged with "defaming" the Soviet State under the Latvian Criminal Code, the National Conference on Soviet Jewry reported. If convicted, he faces up to three years in a labor camp. According to the Conference, the 33 year-old physicist is being held incommunicado. Zunshain and his wife, Tatyana, were among 20 activists who recently signed a petition to the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet asking that they be allowed to emigrate to Israel.
