

JEWISH NEWS BRIEFS

Pomegranate Guild of Judaic Needlework of Southern California will hold its Exhibition '84 Sunday, April 29, 1984 from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the University of Judaism, Mulholland exit of the San Diego (405) freeway north.

Creations of contemporary Needlework will be on exhibit. There will be demonstrations of needlework techniques and an opportunity to meet artists and stitchers. Slides of needlework from other cities will also be presented.

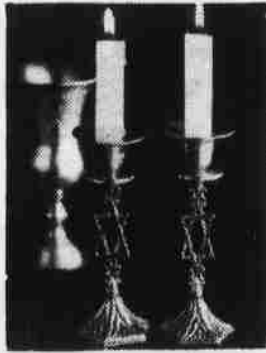

This year, in honor of Tom ha-Shoah (Day of Remembrance of the Holocaust), there will be a display of historic needlework.

Donation at the door $4.00.

NEW YORK (WNS) — President Francois Mitterand of France told a delegation of American Jewish leaders that there is no hostility toward Israel within the European Economic Community (EEC) and promised that his country would take Israeli interests into consideration in assessing the economic impact of the EEC's expansion by the entry of Spain and Portugal. The French President met with the Jewish leaders' delegation, headed by Edgar Bronfman, president of the World Jewish Congress, at the French Consulate General here.

JERUSALEM (WNS) — A team of experts from the aliya and youth department in the Jewish Agency have joined forces to deal with the problems of children from Ethiopia who have recently reached Israel without their parents. Jewish Agency chairman Leon Dulzin said the number of these children is steadily rising and their problems require special attention beyond the regular confines of the youth aliya department.

NEW YORK (WNS) — Police were continuing their investigation into the April 15 bombing of the offices of the Israel Aircraft Industry (IAI) in Manhattan. There were no casualties as the offices were closed at the time of the early morning blast. A group calling itself the "Red Guerilla Resistance" claimed responsibility. A police spokesman said the building suffered "considerable damage."

TEL AVIV (WNS) — Security sources confirmed a report from Damascus that an Israeli Druze soldier, reported missing a year ago, is a captive of the Democratic Front for the Liberation of Palestine, a Damascus based terrorist group. The soldier was identified as Samir Assad who lived in a Druze village in Galilee. The Democratic Front disclosed that it was holding Assad in a report in March.

NEW YORK — Proper Bostonians can now fly to Israel in the proper fashion - without changing planes!

El Al Israel Airlines will offer the only scheduled direct flight from Boston to Tel Aviv.

"We're pleased to offer this new direct flight just in time for Spring because it gives our New England passengers a fast, convenient way to fly from Boston on a regular schedule," said David Eylath, Area Manager/New England of El Al. "There's no need to change planes or transfer baggage, so passengers spend less time travelling and more time in Israel."
