

Probe Demanded Into Killing Of Terrorist Bus Hijackers

TEL AVIV (WNS) — Two Knesset members have demanded a full scale investigation into the circumstances surrounding the killing of four terrorists who hijacked a bus on April 12 with the intention of taking its passengers hostage.

Ehud Olmert of Likud and Victor Shemtov of the opposition Labor Alignment agreed that the facts must be ascertained to relieve Israel of suspicion, implicit in foreign media reports, that one of the terrorists was murdered. The army version of the events said that two terrorists were killed instantly when troops stormed the bus to rescue the passengers. A third terrorist died of his wounds a short while later and the fourth, according to the army, died on the way to the hospital.

But an Israeli reporter from the newspaper Hadashot said he saw one of the terrorists, apparently unharmed, being led away in handcuffs by two plainclothes Israeli security men. The reporter is widely reported to have a photograph of the man but Israeli censors have banned its publication.

According to media reports, the photograph shows a man identified by friends and relatives as Majdi Abu Jama, 18, of Bein Shuheila village in the Gaza Strip, one of four men who hijacked the Egged bus. The four terrorists were all buried on April 15 under army supervision.

The army has maintained that this is a case of mistaken identity. According to the official version, a bus passenger initially mistaken for one of the hijackers, was held in custody for a while but released after he established his identity as a Jew travelling on the bus from Tel Aviv to Ashkelon.

Signs Of Improvement In Egyptian-Soviet Relations

WASH. (WNS) — Signs of improvement in Egyptian-Soviet relations, strained for more than a decade, are emerging with the announcement that the two countries have agreed in principle to exchange Ambassadors after a three year break.

Foreign Minister Kamal Hassan Ali of Egypt was reported by Egypt's official news agency as saying in Khartoum, Sudan, "The principle of exchanging Ambassadors is agreed on. It is likely that Ambassadors may be

Rabin Outlines Plans For IDF Withdrawal From Lebanon

TEL AVIV (WNS) — Former Premier Yitzhak Rabin has outlined a plan by which, he says, the Israel Defense Force could be withdrawn completely from Lebanon in 3-6 months. He was sharply critical of the government for "wasting" a year negotiating its pact with the government of President Amin Gemayel of Lebanon when it should have concentrated on building up the south Lebanon army.

According to Rabin, the May 17, 1983, withdrawal security agreement which the Gemayel government has since repudiated was "a piece of paper lacking in any practical meaning from its inception."

In a radio interview, Rabin, a former Chief of Staff and a member of the Labor Party leadership in the upcoming election campaign, said the IDF could be replaced by a strengthened south Lebanon army which would be responsible for the security of Israel's northern borders.

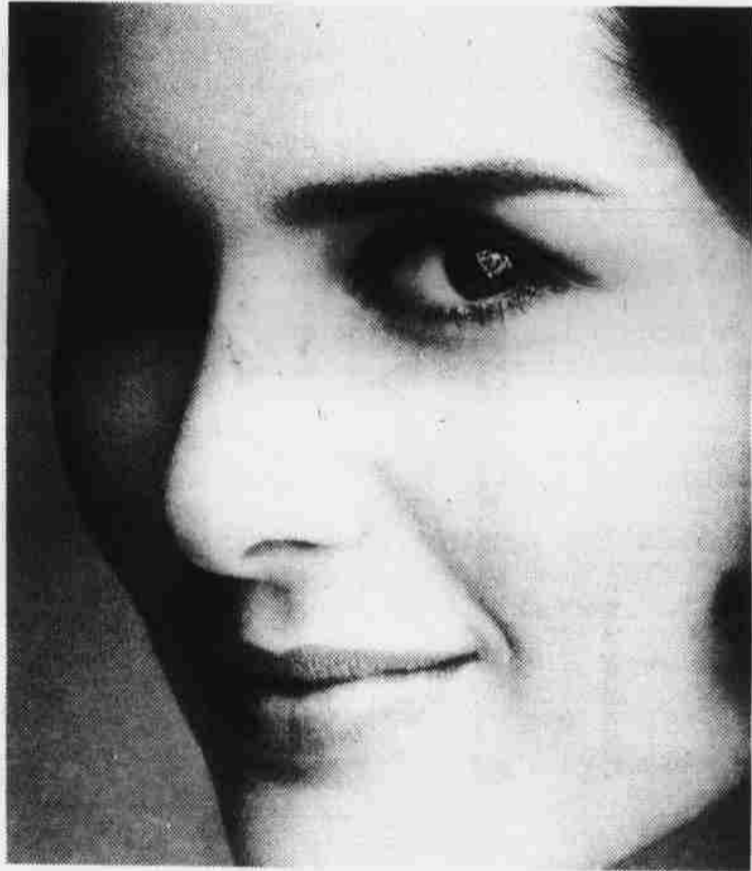

He proposed that the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon (UNIFIL) replace the IDF in the Lebanese port city of Sidon and serve as a buffer between Israel and Syria. The IDF should be used to "win wars quickly, not to try to impose political solutions," Rabin declared, an apparent criticism of the war aims of the Likud government when Israel invaded Lebanon in June, 1982.

Instead of building up the south Lebanon army, the government wasted a year on a "practically meaningless pact with Beirut...We lost a full year because the government policy was locked into the agreement...If we had used the year to encourage the residents of south Lebanon to cooperate with us, we would be in a far better position today."
