

JEWISH NEWS BRIEFS

UNITED NATIONS (WNS) — Secretary General Javier Perez de Guellar said that his visit to the Middle East, scheduled to begin on June 3, will include stops in Israel, Syria, Lebanon, Egypt and Jordan. Speaking at a luncheon sponsored by the United Nations Correspondents Association the Secretary General said his trip will be a combination of a "working and protocolary visit."

JERUSALEM (WNS) — The Israel Defense Force has a new auxiliary composed of hundreds of recent immigrants who perform non-military work that ordinarily would have required calling up additional reserve soldiers. The project is sponsored jointly by the World Zionist Organization and the IDF central command. The immigrants, residents of absorption centers all over the country, volunteer their time.

JERUSALEM (WNS) — Defense Minister Moshe Arens has ruled out another redeployment for the IDF in south Lebanon. He told the Knesset's Foreign Affairs and Security Committee that a move to new lines would not reduce the number of attacks on Israeli soldiers. According to Arens, the security situation in south Lebanon has improved because the local residents realize that the IDF's presence "is not so temporary" and are therefore more willing to enter into dialogue.

JERUSALEM (WNS) — Education and Culture Minister Zevulun Hammer has appointed a panel of educational experts to coordinate efforts to improve the cultural and social absorption of Ethiopian immigrants. Hammer did this after consulting with a number of Ethiopian immigrants. Many complained that their absorption was difficult because many Israelis did not relate to them as Jews and Zionists.
