

Saudi Embassy Accused Of Violating Anti-Boycott

NEW YORK (WNS) — The American Jewish Congress has accused the Saudi Arabian Embassy in Washington of violating American law by providing a service that gives information over the telephone on the Arab boycott of Israel, it was reported in the AJCongress' monthly publication, Boycott Report.

The Saudi Arabian practice was described as an abuse of diplomatic privilege. The AJCongress said it wanted the State Department to crack down by warning that unless the practice is stopped, Saudi diplomats involved in the scheme will be declared "persona non-grata" and asked to leave the country.

Mondale Would Move U.S. Embassy In Israel

 democracy there, our flesh and blood ally, the State of Israel."

Former President Jimmy Carter, who also spoke, did not mention the Mideast in a speech which criticized Reagan for abandoning the Carter Administration's concern with human rights.

However, Rep. Morris Udall of Arizona, who introduced Carter, praised the former President as a "peacemaker" for bringing Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and Israel Premier Menachem Begin together at Camp David. Cuomo also noted Carter's accomplishment in bringing about "the nearly miraculous Camp David peace accords."

With both former Vice President Walter Mondale, who was nominated, for President, and President Reagan considered strong friends of Israel, and with both parties expected to adopt strong planks in support of the Jewish State, the major difference may be over the status of the U.S. Embassy in Israel.

The Democratic platform endorses moving the Embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. But while in 1980 Carter said he would not abide by that plank, Mondale is on record as saying that he would move the Embassy if elected. Reagan has up to now opposed any move pending a negotiated Mideast settlement.
