

23rd Semiannual Art Show At The Boulevard Mall

Monument, Colo. artist Holly Merrifield working on a painting of an African wild animal scene for her exhibit in Don Palmer's 23rd semiannual World of Art Show, Sunday, Sept. 16 through Sunday, Sept. 23, at The Boulevard Mall, Maryland Parkway at Desert Inn.

Fifty professional artists from 12 U.S. states are putting on a mammoth art show for eight days, Sunday, Sept. 16 through Sunday, Sept. 23, at The Boulevard Mall, Maryland Parkway at Desert Inn, in Las Vegas.

These artists will show about 2,000 pieces of their original works of art - oil paintings, graphics, metal-sculptured fountains, etchings, watercolors, bronze castings, pottery, stone sculptures, plus woodcarvings and Tapa art from Tonga.

Several of the artists will bring their paints, brushes, chisels and acetelyene torches and paint and sculpt during the show.

"I've just returned from Alaska," says Colorado artist Carole Bourdo. "I sketched and photographed both grizzly bears and mountainmen. I'll be painting these subjects during the Boulevard show. Stop by and visit with me and the other artists. We like to get your opinions on our art."

Show hours are: 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday; 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday; and noon to 5 p.m. Sundays.

Artists in the show will include: Gerry Feustel from Idaho painting watercolors in contemporary colors; Linda Neilson from Las Vegas showing decorative weavings; John Werling from California showing black and white photography (critics compare Werling's work with that of the late Ansel Adams); Terry Hutchison from South Dakota chiseling faces out of Ponderosa pine knots; Rich Irwin from California welding metal-sculptured fountains; Wallace Parker from Arizona painting portraits; Holly Merrifield from Colorado painting wildlife; Patrick John from Washington painting westerns; Sue Ratliff from Texas whose style takes up where the French impressionists left off; Lee Christy showing art from his Colorado gallery; George Lee from Utah painting seascapes; Argentine artist Henry Ramirez, now from Las Vegas, painting oils in the style of the Old Masters; and Trish Williams from Colorado showing Indian-type pottery.

Charo Ignites Moulin Rouge With Latin Fire

From the moment the young paper boy yells "Extra! Extra! An American star arrives in Paris!" you know that an extravaganza is soon to follow. When the dynamic Charo appears on stage, you know that you are in for an evening of sheer excitement.

The Moulin Rouge has gone "Cuchie-Cuchie" once again, bringing the super-charged electricity of Charo to the showroom of the Las Vegas Hilton. Words like "fiery," "incredible," "voluptuous" and "sensational" are now on the tongues of Hilton audiences.

The fast-paced music of "Bal du Moulin Rouge," with its recreation of a Parisian train station, the lively "Fiesta Mexicana," the mystic "Pancho Villa's Dream" fantasy, the ever popular "World of the Circus" segment that features Tanya the Elephant and singer Eric Gillett as "The Ringmaster," as well as the talented specialty acts, make it the most spectacular production in Las Vegas.

What makes Moulin Rouge even more incredible is the addition of Charo's blend of talent and energy. The catylist that brings this assemblage of talent and color together, the "Latin Bombshell" has brought an entirely new show to her segment that includes fast-paced numbers like "Hero" and "She Works Hard for the Money." Igniting the stage with a talented group of dancers, Charo goes on to a Spanish flavored version of "Islands in the Stream," then delights the audience with a naughty but nice monologue that only she can deliver. "Malaguena" and "Grenada" highlight her incredible Flenenco talent. She closes with a salute to America that literally brings the house down.

"Bal du Moulin Rouge" teamed with Charo make an evening at the Las Vegas Hilton the best entertainment value in town. Offering two shows nightly except Monday, Hilton showroom prices start at just $18.50 for the dinner show and only $15 for the late evening cocktail show. This can't be beat anywhere!

KGB Harasses Moscow Hebrew Teacher

NEW YORK (WNS) — Soviet authorities are seeking to build the case against Moscow refusenik and Hebrew teacher Aleksandr Kholmiansky, according to information received from Moscow by the Greater New York Conference on Soviet Jewry. Following his arrest for a minor infraction of Soviet law, punishable only by fine, Kholmiansky is now being detained while the KGB attempts to gather evidence which will justify a major criminal charge.

The KGM campaign

has already involved several Odessa refuseniks who have been asked to provide written evidence against Kholmiansky, the Conference reported. These refuseniks have been instructed to supply written testimony to the fact that Kholmiansky distributed Jewish articles and teaching materials during his visits in Odessa. The Conference also reported that there were searches of five Moscow apartments in connection with the Kholmiansky case within the last week.
