

Herman Riederman To Be Honored At New York ORT Scholarship Reception October 25

Herman Riederman will be the guest of honor at the 1984 New York ORT Scholarship Reception slated for October 25 at The Harmonie Club in New York City, announced Bruce B. Teicholz, Vice President of the American ORT Federation and New York ORT Scholarship Fund Chairman. In making the announcement, Teicholz cited Riederman's long standing support of the ORT Scholarship Program as "an example for all who care about the future of young people throughout the Jewish world."

Mr. Riederman's first encounter with ORT occurred in 1946. After escaping from an Hungarian forced labor battalion during World War II, he took refuge in the Swiss Consulate in Budapest from where he was liberated. After the war he studied designing in an ORT program in Brussels and later came to New York where he started his own successful lingerie manufacturing business.

In addition to his activities on behalf of ORT as a member of the AOF Board of Directors, he is active in a number of Jewish organizations. He is on the Board of Trustees at Congregation Kehilath Jeshurun and supports the Halachic Chair of the late Rabbi Joseph H. Lookstein at Yeshiva University. He is also a supporter of Israel Bonds, the UJA and serves on the Board of Directors of the World Federation of Hungarian Jews.

Herman Riederman and his wife, Frida, a survivor of Auschwitz whom he met in Belgium and later married in New York, reside in Manhattan. They are founders of the new Ramaz High School. Their son, Dr. Robert Riederman, is an alumnus of the Ramaz School and has served for the past five years on their Board of Trustees. Presently, he is a resident in orthopedic surgery at Albert Einstein. Robert's wife, Helene, is a tax attorney who is presently pursuing an L.L.M. degree at New York University.

Herman Riederman will be the guest of honor at the 1984 New York ORT Scholarship Fund Reception slated for October 25 at The Harmonie Club in New York City, announced Bruce B. Teicholz, Vice President of the American ORT Federation and New York ORT Scholarship Fund Chairman.

Founded in 1880 to train the Jews of Eastern Europe in agricultural and industrial skills, today ORT operates a global network of 800 vocational/technical schools and training centers which educates more than 116,000 students throughout the Jewish world, 80,000 in Israel alone. Current fields taught in ORT schools include electronics, computer technology and robotics. In its 104 year history, ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation through Training) has trained more than two million people in the marketable skills that have enabled them to earn a livelihood and achieve dignity in their lives.
