Cost Of Living Index Soars In Israel

TEL AVIV (WNS) — The cost-of-living index soared by 21.4 per cent during September, the largest monthly increase yet recorded, the Central Bureau of Statistics reported. Over the past twelve months, the C.O.L. index has risen by 450 per cent, but according to the Bureau the inflation rate for 1984 will be much higher. It is presently at an annual rate of between 900-1,000 per cent and the rate in October, to be announced next month, is expected to exceed September's. Wage earners will be paid a 17 percent C.O.L. increment at the end of this month. The increment amounts to 80 percent of last month's C.O.L. increase. Histadrut leaders were not available for comment on the latest bad news. But there are mounting demands for weekly payments of salaries. Workers complain that by the time they receive their monthly paycheck, their value has declined by 20-25 per cent because the C.O.L. increments are derived from a price index 2-4 weeks old.
