

Bilbray Gift To UNLV

BILBRAY SCHOLARSHIP — State Sen. Jim Bilbray (right) presents a check for $10,000 to UNLV Alumni Association President Robert Brinton and Alberta Stern, alumni scholarship chairman, to establish the Kevin Bilbray Alumni Scholarship in memory of his son.

State Sen. Jim Bilbray has established a scholarship through the UNLV Alumni Association in memory of his son, who was just starting his first year at UNLV at the time of his death.

Bilbray gave an initial $10,000 to the Alumni Association to establish the Kevin Bilbray Alumni Scholarship.

Explaining that the scholarship endowment will be funded by earnings from the Bilbray family corporation that would have gone to Kevin, the state senator said he hopes the endowment principal will grow to $100,000. That figure would generate enough interest to fund $10,000 annually for scholarships.

"Our idea in establishing this endowment was that many students need financial help, not just A students," Bilbray said, noting that the scholarships will be awarded on the basis of need rather than outstanding achievement.

The first scholarship award from the fund will be made for Fall Semester 1985, according to Fred Albrecht, alumni relations director. The alumni scholarship committee is working out the details on how recipients will be selected.

Eban Urges U.S. To Act As Mediator In The Mideast Conflict

NEW YORK (WNS) — Former Foreign Minister Abba Eban has urged the United States to return to the role of mediator in the Middle East as a means of resolving the Arab-Israeli conflict.

"There is no substitute for the United States as the agent for conciliation in the Middle East," Eban declared at a press conference here shortly before he received the 1984 Covenant of Peace Award from the Synagogue Council of America. He said he hoped the Reagan Administration would soon decide to resume America's mediating role to achieve peace between Israel and its Arab neighbors.

"The next major step for a Middle East peace is a return of the U.S. to the negotiating table," Eban said. A second step is the restoration of "some warmth" to the Egyptian-Israeli relationship, he added, noting that this was also the view expressed to him by Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak when they met in Cairo last April.

The Synagogue Council, an umbrella organization representing the congregational and rabbinical branches of Conservative, Orthodox and Reform Judaism in America, also bestowed its Covenant of Peace Award on the Danish government for its rescue of Danish Jews from Nazi deportation during World War II, and to businessman Eugene Grant, a real estate investor and developer from Mamaroneck, N.Y.

The statuette representing the prophet Isaiah, was presented to the awardees by Rabbi Mordechai Waxman, SCA president. A special award of a Shofar was given to the Danish-born entertainer, Victor Borge. It was presented by J. Morton Davis, last year's Covenant of Peace recipient.

Congregation Shaarei Tefilla Ready To Build

By Jack Super, President

Congregation Shaarei Tefilla, the Orthodox Synagogue, has received all of the required building permits for construction of the Synagogue, which will enable seating for 120 people comfortably at services. A contractor has been chosen and we are ready to go. However, we are still short of the total $15,000 sum of money required.

In order to finance the Synagogue construction, a "Brick Fund" has been established. The front entrance to the new Synagogue will be of brick. There will be 150 bricks, each inscribed with its purchaser's or "Synagogue Builder's" name on it. The cost per brick is $100.

We are asking the Las Vegas Jewish community to participate in the building of our Synagogue. You do not have to be a member to be a person who partakes in the mitzvah of "Meyachadim Batei Kenisuyot Litfilah" (one who dedicates Synagogues for prayer).

Send in your $100 contribution. You will help build our Synagogue and your name will be inscribed on a brick prominently displayed at the entrance to the Synagogue.

All donations are tax-deductible and should be sent to: Congregation Shaarei Tefilla, 1331 S. Maryland Parkway, Las Vegas, Nevada 89104.
