Two rooms in Congregation Ner Tamid's new facility were recently dedicated. Aside from the religious school, named in honor of benefactor M. B. Dalitz, these are the first two areas to be dedicated.

A classroom in the M.B. Dalitz School will be known as the Alper Room, for Sam and Hortense Alper, who have made a substantial contribution to the congregation and have expressed a deep interest in Jewish education for the children of the synagogue.

Dr. and Mrs. David Wasserman were sponsors for the dedication of the Rabbi's Study, named in honor of Ann and Milton Wasserman, the doctor's parents. Ann Wasserman is the immediate past Religious Vice President of the congregation.

According to Ner Tamid's president, David Goldwater, there will be other areas of the buildings which will be dedicated in the future. He said, "There are several other people who were instrumental in turning a dream into a reality. The buildings are up and are being used as a place to teach the tenets of Reform Judaism. But, more important than the physical structures are the efforts and love poured into making Congregation Ner Tamid a viable part of Judaism in Southern Nevada.

The Oasis Chapter of Women's American ORT will hold a Food and Wine Tasting Party on Saturday, February 16, 7:30 p.m., at Congregation Ner Tamid, 2761 Emerson.
