

King Remembered At Israel Embassy Observance

WASHINGTON (WNS) — The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. was remembered at a ceremony at the Israel Embassy, marking the 56th anniversary of his birth, for not only fighting for social justice for Blacks, but for all people who suffered discrimination. The ceremony, attended by some 100

Blacks and Jews, also marked the 10th anniversary of the establishment of the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial forest in Israel's Galilee which now has more than 10,000 trees. Max Kampelman, chairman emeritus of the committee that established the forest, said King was "a fighter not just for the welfare of Blacks but a fighter for all who suffered injustice. He was a fighter for democracy and freedom."

Israel's Ambassador Meir Rosenne said that King, who was murdered nearly 17 years ago, is "not dead" as long as people "remain faithful to his ideas." He noted that 25 years ago King was one of the first to raise his voice concerning the struggle for freedom of Soviet Jews at a time when many "hesitated" to do so.

Lenore Siegelman, vice chairman of the King forest committee, told the gathering that the National Leadership Council of the JNF has announced that it is contributing a grove at the forest in memory of Dr. King's father, the Rev. Martin Luther King, Sr., who died last year.

The ceremony at the Embassy ended on a poignant note as the choir of the Nineteenth Street Baptist Church sang "We shall overcome," with many of those standing in the audience linking arms and singing along as was done during civil rights demonstrations. Earlier, Joe Glazer, a local folk singer and labor troubadour, sang the song in Hebrew.
