"Highsteppin' " - A Hit At The Mint

The Mint's new rollicking revue "Highsteppin' " heads into its third smash week still going strong. The show's phenomenal talent covers all areas, from the spectacular dancing of the Nanette Barbera dancers and the famed comedy of Jackie Gayle's routines to the spellbinding illusion and magic of Brandon Scott.

"Highsteppin' " is the sixth, and considered to be the best, of projects produced by Jon Paul and dancer-choreographer Barbera since they teamed up in 1980.

The MerriMINT Theatre offers a big show in a cozy and comfortable setting that enables audiences to get close enough to really enjoy the performances of each and every member of the cast. The intimate atmosphere is an added bonus as it allows each performer to become acquainted with the entire audience, giving the show a more personal touch.

Audience participation is a major part of Brandon Scott's magic. His talent for making people laugh is equalled by his ability for leaving them stunned with disappearing tricks and unbelievable illusion.

Jackie Gayle never ceases to please by making each show his very best. His humor spans everything under the sun and the master of ad-lib has audiences splitting their sides with laughter.

Nanette Barbera and her cast of young and lively dancers bring their own style to the MerriMINT stage and it's fabulous. Imagination and versatility are continually displayed throughout the show with fast-paced dancing, twenty-six costume changes and tunes including "In the Mood," "Grease," "Footloose," and Michael Jackson's "Thriller."

Step into the Mint for the MerriMINT Theatre's new revue and catch "Highsteppin' " at 9 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. nightly except Mondays for only $6.95 per person, including two drinks. A third showtime of 2 a.m. is presented on Saturdays only.

For more information and reservations, call the MerriMINT Theatre at 387-MINT.

Israel Will Aid In U.S. Probe For Mengele

JERUSALEM (WNS) — The United States and Israel are preparing to cooperate in the search for Josef Mengele, the Auschwitz death camp doctor who is the most notorious Nazi war criminal still at large.

The U.S. Department of Justice said that it would accept evidence from Israelis in the investigation just ordered by Attorney General William French Smith into the whereabouts of Mengele and of reports that in 1947 he was arrested and released by American authorities in Vienna.

Neal Sher, chief of the Justice Department's Office of Special Investigations (OSI), told a Voice of Israel Radio reporter in Washington that the investigation will be carried out in coordination with other governments. He would not say whether U.S. agents would participate in the search for the war criminal.

It was learned, meanwhile, that Justice Minister Moshe Nissim has established an inter-ministerial headquarters to coordinate government activities to track down Mengele. The inter-ministerial group will consist of representatives of the Justice Ministry, Foreign Ministry, police and other government agencies. Nissim said all legal preparations have been completed to bring Mengele to swift trial in Israel once he is found and captured.

Details of Mengele's brutal medical experiments on Auschwitz inmates were recounted in detail by survivors attending an international congress at the Yad Vashem to mark the 40th anniversary of the liberation of the death camp. The three-day gathering is credited with arousing world-wide interest in bringing Mengele to justice.
