Realty Holdings Group Party

Hundreds of preferred clients, friends and Rebel fans recently gathered in the lobby of downtown's Valley Bank Plaza for an Appreciation Celebration hosted by Realty Holdings Group.

The "Rebel Rally" theme was unmistakable, with the office building lobby transformed into a lifelike playing court, complete with popcorn, peanuts, beer and buffet tables covered with delicious hot and cold hors d'oeuvres.

It was an evening filled with excitement as Jerry Tarkanian and the UNLV cheerleaders mingled among guests including Nevada's Governor Richard Bryan; university president Robert Maxson; UNLV director of intercollegiate activities, Brad Rothermel; university system regents and other distinguished officials. Realty Holdings Group's Lloyd E. Sauter, chairman of the board, and Keith W. Bassett, president, were joined by the firm's leasing and sales associates for the salute and send-off of the UNLV Rebels to the PCAA tournaments.

Skyrise To Set Records

Pictured is artist's rendering of 29-story addition now under construction at Circus Circus Hotel/Casino. Dubbed the Circus Skyrise, the new tower will add 1,188 rooms to the Las Vegas mid-Strip resort's present 1,605, for a total of 2,793 rooms. Included in the addition will be approximately 17,000 square feet of casino area and 10,000 square feet for a race and sports book, as well as a parking garage. Upon completion of the project in April of 1986, Circus Circus will contain a total of over 100,000 square feet of casino space, resulting in the largest casino capacity in the industry. Site of the Circus Skyrise is Circus Circus Drive, across the street from the main hotel-casino-circus complex and adjacent to Circus Manor and Circusland RV Park. A new arm of the Circus Sky Shuttle will link the Skyrise to the main Big Top. General contractor for the $59 million project is Marnell Corrao Associates of Las Vegas.

Reluctant Peres Meets Falwell

JERUSALEM (WNS) — Premier Shimon Peres received Rev. Jerry Falwell, leader of the Moral Majority, at his office. The meeting, described as "modest," was brief and Peres' aides refused to allow photographers to be present.

Peres clearly was less than enthusiastic to meet the American evangelical, a leader of the Christian fundamentalist rightwing in the U.S. who is an outspoken supporter of Israel and once received a medal from Premier Menachem Begin. He agreed apparently because of Falwell's friendship for Israel and because he is admired by President Reagan and is considered to wield considerable influence in American politics.

Falwell told the Israel Premier at their meeting that he thought Israel is the most important democracy in the area and preserved American influence in face of Soviet threats. "We are for Israel and not for the (Labor) Alignment or the Likud," the conservative cleric said.

At a press conference later, Falwell claimed Peres was his friend.

He said he assumed the Premier's advisors were reluctant to schedule their meeting because of pressure from certain American Jewish groups. Many mainstream American Jewish organizations and prominent individuals find the ultra-conservative positions of Falwell and his Moral Majority on social issues abhorrent. But other American Jews advocate friendship with the Christian right because of its consistent support for Israel.

Peres nevertheless declined an invitation to attend the conference of "The Friendship Journey to Israel -- 85," headed by Falwell. The 850 delegates were addressed by Likud Minister-Without Portfolio Moshe Arens, a former Defense Minister.

Falwell was received by Deputy Premier and Foreign Minister Yitzhak Shamir, leader of Likud, and by former Defense Minister Ariel Sharon, now the Minister of Commerce and Industry. He also telephoned former Premier Menachem Begin at his home and spoke to him for about 15 minutes. Begin has seldom left his home since his retirement in August, 1983.

French Businessman Reports Mengele Is Alive

PARIS (WNS) — A French businessman says he has concrete proof that Josef Mengele, the Auschwitz death camp doctor is alive in Paraguay. The non-Jewish Lyon-based businessman told the French daily

"Lyon Matin" that friends in Paraguay told him Mengele lives in the Pratis-Gill area between the Filadelfia and Neuland regions. The paper did not reveal his name for security reasons.

The businessman says Mengele was seen by local inhabitants who formally recognized him from published pictures. He is usually accompanied by four bodyguards. The Pratis-Gill area, writes "Lyon Matin," is run by a sect of Prussian origin, the Mennonites, which is protecting other former Nazis as well.
