

Charlie Callas Crackin' 'Em Up At The Las Vegas Hilton

OFF-BEAT ANTICS -- That "off-beat" comedian Charlie Callas is currently starring with Charo in "Bal du Moulin Rouge" at the Las Vegas Hilton. The show can be seen twice nightly, except on Monday. The 8:00 p.m. dinner show starts at $19.50 and the midnight cocktail show costs only $16.00.

"Crazy," "off-beat" and "zany" can only describe the mad-cap antics of comedian Charlie Callas now starring with Charo in "Bal du Moulin Rouge" at the Las Vegas Hilton.

Charlie Callas may very well be one of the most versatile artists working in the entertainment industry today. This truly talented comic is known for his rapid-fire humor that keeps audiences rolling with laughter.

Callas is a highly visual comic who paints humorous pictures with the contortions of his face and body. Combine this with his tremendous repertoire of impressions and you've got the makings of the Callas style.

The Brooklyn-born comedian began his career in show business in the 1940's as a professional drummer. However, it was with the encouragement of his fellow musicians that he decided to try his hand at comedy.

Since then, he has been a favorite on all major television shows, including the Ed Sullivan Show, the Merv Griffin Show and the Tonight Show. He also co-starred with Eddie Albert and Robert Wagner in the hit series "Switch" which aired on CBS for three years.

Callas has made countless appearances in nightclubs from coast-to-coast, including Atlantic City, Lake Tahoe and Las Vegas.

Now co-starring in "Bal du Moulin Rouge" with Charo, he is the perfect compliment to the Hilton's production show which features lively dance numbers, colorful costumes and incredible specialty acts.

"Bal du Moulin Rouge" starts at $19.50 for the 8:00 p.m. dinner show and the midnight cocktail show costs only $16.00. The show is featured nightly, except on Monday.

BALTIMORE (WNS) — A group of leftwing activists here, who are usually denouncing the United States for its policy in Central America, are now also protesting the refusal of the Soviet Union to allow the wife and son of a former Soviet Jewish dissident, Alexander Kostamarov, to join him in Baltimore.

Hope-Burns Eternal For Hall Of Fame At Gala Las Vegas Dinner April 13

LAS VEGAS, NV. — A gala "Founders Day" fund-raising dinner, featuring Bob Hope and George Burns, to benefit the newly-formed International Boxing Hall of Fame (IBHF), in Las Vegas, will be held on Saturday, April 13, at the Riviera Hotel, it was announced by Ron Schaefer, Chairman of the IBHF.

The IBHF is a $30 million complex dedicated to the international sport of boxing that will be located on the Las Vegas "Strip," and is expected to open in mid-1987. The unique structure, which includes nine satellite facilities plus an impressive central rotunda, will be the most ambitious Hall of Fame built to date. Unlike existing Halls of Fame, the IBHF will provide a number of programs for young people and members of the boxing community that reflect a long term commitment to the 3,000 year-old sport.

Called "The Main Event," the star-studded evening will also feature a number of former and current boxing champions in attendance. With the much-touted Thomas Hearns-Marvin Hagler fight scheduled two days later in Las Vegas, the dinner's principals expect the boxing world to provide an impressive turnout. Bronze founder's plaques, on the wall of the main IBHF rotunda, will feature individual names of those people in attendance at the April 13 dinner.

The program for "The Main Event" includes an elegant reception, gourmet-style dinner, and an exciting entertainment finale. Along with Burns and Hope, singer Joey English, talented nightclub entertainer, and the Riviera Orchestra will also be featured.
