Senior citizens who are looking for a way to maintain good health may want to check into the physical examination program at the Clark County Health District.

Anyone over the age of 60 is eligible for the free examination which is conducted by a nurse practitioner. The exam includes a comprehensive check of blood pressure, urine, blood test for anemia, glaucoma, hearing and vision problems. Pap smears are included for women and health counseling is included for all participants.

When health problems are detected, patients are referred to a physician for medical care.

The exam program is designed to help seniors stay well by uncovering unsuspected health problems. Seniors who are ill are referred to a physician for immediate care.

The senior clinic is located at the District Health Center, 625 Shadow Lane, Las Vegas, and is open Monday through Friday for appointments and examinations. Senior clinics are also held twice monthly at the Henderson Public Health Center, 201 Lead Street. For an appointment in Las Vegas, call 383-1354; in Henderson call 564-3232.

The senior health program is subsidized with federal funds.
