

George Burns Headlines Caesars Palace Showroom With McGuire Sisters Through August 12

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Lovable George Burns is returning to the Caesars Palace Circus Maximus Showroom August 7-12 in nightly cocktail shows which will also feature The McGuire Sisters.

Now 89 years young, Burns will soon be seen in a new network television series, "The George Burns Comedy Hour," premiering this fall on CBS. The series will feature Burns as host, with introductions and comments about each weekly segment.

Burns is no stranger to television. He and his late wife Gracie Allen starred in the very successful "Burns and Allen Show" from 1950-58. In 1955 they founded the McCadden Corporation, to film television shows and commercials. The company produced "The Burns and Allen Show" and "The Bob Cummings Show," along with other popular series. When Gracie Allen retired in 1959, George continued alone in "The George Burns Show," and later produced and starred in "Wendy and Me" with Connie Stevens. He also produced the series "Mona McCluskey," starring

Juliet Prowse, and was co-owner of the series, "Mr. Ed."

When Gracie Allen died in 1964, George immersed himself in work, producing the series "No Time For Sergeants" and doing nightclub work.

In the last five years he has done TV specials with guest stars like Walter Matthau, Ann-Margret, John Denver, Bernadette Peters, Johnny Carson, Bob Hope and scores of other. His latest TV special was last year's "How To Live To Be 100 or More."

Joining Burns for this Caesars Palace engagement are Phyllis, Christine and Dorothy McGuire. The McGuire Sisters last performed at Caesars Palace in 1968, where they made a guest appearance on "The Ed Sullivan Show" filmed at the resort. The talented trio had decided to take a break from performing after years of million-selling records and headline engagements at such glittering spots as New York's Waldorf, Chicago's Chez Paree and Los Angeles' Cocolanut Grove.

George Burns and The McGuire Sisters will perform cocktail shows nightly at 10 p.m. except Saturday, when showtimes are 8:30 and 11:30 p.m. For reservations phone the Caesars Palace Circus Maximus Showroom 702/731-7333 or 800/445-4544 (outside Nevada, within the U.S.)
