Southwest Airlines Offers Senior Citizens Fare

DALLAS, TEXAS — Southwest Airlines is offering senior citizens 65 years of age or older the opportunity to fly anywhere on the Southwest system for just $25.00, Herbert D. Kelleher, chairman of the board and president announced. The senior citizens program highlighted by the low $25 fare ($50 roundtrip) is valid for all travel taken between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday through Friday beginning September 23 and ending November 15, 1985.

To qualify, senior citizens 65 years or older simply make reservations in the normal fashion and purchase their $25 one-way (or $50 roundtrip) ticket at the Southwest Airlines ticket counter or through a travel agent. Senior citizens may travel as often as they like during the designated times. Identification with proof of age will be requested at time of travel.

"Southwest is pleased to offer senior citizens this opportunity to visit family and friends at a very economical fare," stated Kelleher. "We feel the program will have a particular appeal for senior citizens who are often on a limited income and have discretionary time to travel. We anticipate that when they travel, they will also note that Southwest's everyday fares are affordably low. The senior citizen program is another commitment on Southwest's part to keep fares low and senior citizens spirits high.

well known local families.

The facility will easily accommodate about 150 campers at one time, and the Keyser Training Center, boasting full kitchen and dining facilities, will be used for business and other events.
