

JEWISH NEWS BRIEFS

JERUSALEM (WNS) — Israel will not be allowed to participate in the 1986 international book fair in Cairo next January. Egyptian Culture Minister Ahmed Heikal was quoted by the state-owned Middle East News Agency as saying that his ministry "has rejected an Israeli request for participation in the fair." Heikal gave no reason, but his statement came after Egypt's denunciation of Israel's air attack on PLO headquarters in Tunisia.

TORONTO (WNS) — The Canadian Jewish Congress' national executive committee recently adopted a resolution affirming its "repugnance of apartheid as alien to the Jewish ethic." The resolution added: "We call on the South African government to abolish without delay any laws based on racial discrimination and to bring about a just society based on negotiations with all races."

JERUSALEM (WNS) — There was an official denial here of a report that Premier Shimon Peres met secretly last week with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev in Paris. "No such meeting took place," said Peres' media aide Uri Savir, responding to an exclusive report in the political weekly, Koteret Rashit.

JERUSALEM (WNS) — U.S. Secretary of State George Shultz has expressed deep sympathy and revulsion over the murder of two Israeli merchant seamen in Barcelona, Spain the week of Oct. 6. Israeli officials have said the two men were killed by the PLO. The bodies of the men, who had apparently been tortured before their death, were found in an apartment in the city by Spanish police.

JERUSALEM (WNS) — Prime Minister Shimon Peres recently received a letter of encouragement from U.S. Secretary of State George Shultz for the government's efforts to boost foreign investments in private Israeli industry.

TEL AVIV (WNS) — West German President Richard von Weizsaecker was granted an honorary doctor of philosophy degree by the Weizmann Institute at a brief ceremony at the Institute in Rehovot on Oct. 11 before he left for home after a four-day official visit to Israel -- the first ever by a German President.

TEL AVIV (WNS) — Syria has apologized for the recent firing of a shoulder-held missile at an IDF plane flying over the Golan Heights, saying it was the unauthorized action of a junior officer acting beyond his standing orders. The missile, fired from the demilitarized zone on the Heights from where such arms are banned, missed its target. Military observers welcomed the Syrian apology, saying such admissions were rare.
