Southwest Medical Center To Offer Free X-Ray Candy
Screening For Halloween

LAS VEGAS -- The Southwest Medical Center, 888 South Rancho Drive, will be offering free x-ray screening of Halloween candy for local trick-or-treaters this Halloween, October 31, from 3 to 10 p.m.

"We feel that x-ray screening of Halloween candy is important if the trick-or-treat tradition is to continue," says Ms. Joan Hill, Administrator. "This x-ray process detects any metal objects in candy or fruit. It takes only a few minutes and is completely safe," she added.

Ms. Hill added that awhile x-ray screening can detect metal objects, parents should still check their children's candy for signs of tampering, discoloration and torn or punctured wrappers. Southwest Meical also recommends that parents accompany young children and stay in familiar neighborhoods while trick-or-treating. Costumes should be brightly-colored or reflective so that children can be seen by motorists.

Southwest Medical Center is Nevada's largest multi-specialty physician group practice and has a complete x-ray department. No appointment will be necessary for the x-ray screening at the Center. Call 877-8645 for more information.
