

A Marathon Run To Free Soviet & Syrian Jews Will Be Held In Israel

A Marathon run to assist the struggle to free Soviet and Syrian Jews will be held in Israel on Wednesday, January 9th.

Sponsored by the Israeli-based Ha'bayta (Homeward), the run will finish at Masada, the symbol of Jewish resistance and heroism.

In addition to the Marathon, a two day March will be held along the same route on January 8th and 9th.

The March and the Marathon are being staged to call attention to the plight of Jewish hostages being held by the Soviet Union and by Syria, according to Meir Indor, Chairman of Ha'bayta.

"In the Soviet Union, Jews are fighting for freedom even though they are being held as hostages," said Mr. Indor.

All participants in the March and the Marathon will be provided with a subsidized trip to Israel, including a two week stay in the home of an Israeli family. The program includes volunteer work and tours throughout Israel.

A special plane with participants will leave from New York and fly directly to Israel on January 6th. The cost of participation in the event is $295 including round trip air fare from New York to Tel Aviv, accommodations and meals. There is also a $36 registration fee for the Marathon and March.

This extremely low price has been made possible by a quarter million dollar gift provided by two Holocaust survivors living in New York.

Individuals wishing to participate in either the Marathon or the March should write to: Ha'bayta, 15 East 26th Street, Suite 1303, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Sharansky vs Shevardnadze

Standing in a prison cage erected by the Student Struggle for Soviet Jewry, Anatoly Sharansky's wife Avital leads a "General Assembly of Truth" opposite the United Nations, as the Kremlin's Foreign Minister Edward Shevardnadze addresses the world body. New stainless steel Prisoner of Conscience bracelets bearing the name of Sharansky and others in the Gulag are available from the SSSJ at 210 West 91st Street, New York, N. Y. 10024.

World Peace Linked To Soviet Human Rights, B'nai B'rith International President Declares

NICE, France — Worldwide peace will never be achieved until the Soviet Union permits its Jewish citizens to emigrate and grants basic rights to all of its peoples, the president of B'nai B'rith International declared here.

In the keynote speech at the opening session of B'nai B'rith District 19's annual convention, B'nai B'rith President Gerald Kraft of the United States called for demonstrations in all Western nations on behalf of Soviet Jewry on the eve of talks between U.S. President Ronald Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev.

Kraft also suggested that Shabbat ceremonies on Friday, Nov. 18, include calls for human rights in the U.S.S.R.

More than 1,000 B'nai B'rith members from throughout Western Europe, as well as the mayor of Nice and other French officials, attended the opening of the convention. The convention marked the 30th anniversary of the founding of District 19 as a replacement of the B'nai B'rith European districts destroyed by Nazi Germany during World War II.

NEW YORK (WNS) — Vladimir Sokolov, a former lecturer at Yale University, went on trial in Waterbury, Conn., on charges that he willfully concealed his activities as a Nazi collaborator and a propagandist for the German Army after the invasion of Russia. The 71-year-old retired defendant who lives with his wife in Milford, is accused of writing Russian-language articles praising Nazis and calling for the annihilation of Jews. He taught Russian at Yale from 1959 to 1976.
