Canter has more than 16 years experience in the real estate industry and recently received her company's top sales performer award of the month.

The Las Vegas store is one of 30 in the Builders Square chain with two additional stores celebrating simultaneous grand openings in Oxnard, California and Houston, Texas.

"There are two important things to remember in retailing," explains Bernard Fauber, chairman of the board for the K-Mart Corporation. "The first is real estate. Location is of primary concern and I feel the Westland Mall is an ideal location for Builders Square in Las Vegas. The second is the people. Courtesy and knowledge of the employees make the store what it is."

Realty Holdings Group manages and leases other prestigious Las Vegas commercial properties including Sahara Square, Park Place and Decatur Meadows Shopping Centers, Spring Mountain Business Park and downtown's landmark Valley Bank Plaza in which the realty firm is headquartered.

France To Extradite Neo-Nazi Terrorist To West Germany

PARIS (WMS) — The extradition of Odfried Hepp, a 27-year-old neo-Nazi, to West Germany for trial on charges of complicity in a number of terrorist attacks and anti-Jewish activities was approved by a French court here.

The Red Rock Docent Program at the Spring Mountain Ranch State Park is accepting volunteers. The program began in the summer of 1977 to increase the use and enhance the enjoyment of the park.

Volunteers to the docent program are given a nine-session training program under the combined supervision of the state park staff and special guest lecturers. The next training program begins January 23, 1986 and will include information on regional history, anthropology, geology, animals and plants of the desert, and park procedures. An apprenticeship follows with practical experience as a docent. Fully trained docents act as hosts in the visitor center lead guided tours to the historic areas of the ranch, and work with the park staff on various projects.

Anyone over eighteen interested in becoming a docent should call the Division of State Parks, Spring Mountain Ranch at 875-4141.

The Paris criminal court had refused to extradite Hepp for alleged participation in the printing of forged currency in an El Fatah camp in Beirut. The court held such a criminal act was not covered by the Franco-German extradition treaty. The court said it would reconsider the West German request for extradition of Hepp as a member of the PLO after the court gets additional information on that issue from West German authorities.

Hepp is suspected of various anti-Jewish actions in both France and West Germany. French police at one time linked Hepp to the blast at the Rue Copernic synagogue in Paris in October, 1980, in which four Jews were killed, 32 injured and the synagogue suffered extensive damage. French police also linked Hepp with the rue des Rosier attack against a Jewish restaurant. However, the French police never managed to gather evidence against Hepp and he has not been charged with any crimes in France. Arrested last April, Hepp will be tried by a West German court on charges of using a false passport to cross the German-French border and for illegal possession of concealed weapons.
