

U.S. Posts $250,000 Reward For Capture Of Achille Lauro Hijack Mastermind

WASHINGTON (WNS) — The United States announced that it is offering a $250,000 reward for information leading to the capture of Muhammad Abbas, the Palestine Liberation Organization official believed to have masterminded the hijacking of the Italian cruise ship Achille Lauro October 7.

State Department deputy spokesman Charles Redman said the reward is for Abbas and "any others not yet in custody" who were responsible for the hijacking in which 14 Americans were held hostage and one of them, Leon Klinghoffer, was murdered. He stressed that the information must lead to the prosecution and conviction of Abbas.

Redman added that anyone who has such information can give it to the FBI or the nearest U.S. Embassy abroad and it "will be handled confidentially and the identity of the informant will be protected." U.S. government officials are not eligible for the reward, however.

Abbas, a close advisor of PLO chief Yasir Arafat and head of the Palestine Liberation Front (PLF), the group that hijacked the liner, was aboard the Egyptian plane with the terrorists who hijacked the ship, which the U.S. forced to land in Italy. But the Italian government allowed him to leave the country even though the U.S. sought his extradition. Since then Italy has issued warrants for his arrest.
