Women's American ORT doesn't only raise funds for Vocational Technical Schools around the world. Its varied interests & activities took some of their representatives to the Las Vegas Convalescent Center to help Jewish residents celebrate Chanukah.

Temple Beth Am with their commitment to serve the entire community as well as its own congregational family found expression through participating also.

Women's American ORT, with Rebitzin Micki Hecht as President of the Area Council, provided the food and tender loving care. Rabbi Hecht chanted the liturgy and young Jared Libitsky of Temple Beth Am's Religious School played his violin for everyone's delight & enjoyment.

"I have been made aware of the fact that the Norwegian Council for Southern Africa has reported me to the United Nations Centre Against Apartheid's register of entertainers; actors and others who have performed in South Africa," said Mordkovitch in a letter to the UN committee. "Since I in no manner wish my visit to South Africa to be seen as support to the apartheid state, I would like to hereby regret my appearances in South Africa in February 1982. Moreover, I have no desire to return to South Africa as long as apartheid exists in that country."
