

UJA Young Leadership Conference In Washington

The Champ And Wonder Woman At The D.I.

UJA YOUNG LEADERSHIP MARCH: As part of the United Jewish Appeal's Young Leadership Conference in Washington, D.C., thousands of young leaders from more than 100 communities throughout the United States participated in an outdoor march to remind the world that Jewish dissidents still remain behind the Iron Curtain, unable to freely practice their religion or emigrate to the Jewish homeland.

UJA YOUNG LEADERSHIP AWARD: The United Jewish Appeal's first Young Leadership Jacob Javits Humanitarian Award is presented to Elie Wiesel (center) at the Young Leadership Conference in Washington, D.C. Presenting the award are Conference Chairmen Peter Alter (left) and Maria Gilson (right). Three thousand young Jewish leaders attended the action-packed three-day conference, learning about issues of key importance to the American Jewish community.

After an 11th round knockout of challenger John Mugabi, undisputed middleweight champion Marvelous Marvin Hagler went to the Desert Inn to see "Wonder Woman" Lynda Carter, his female counterpart, who was starring in the Crystal Room with Ray Stevens. The pair met backstage after the show. Carter was prepared. She said if Hagler started throwing any punches, she would have to put on her "Wonder Woman golden bracelets," capable of repelling anything. Needless to say, all went well.

Temple Beth Am Sisterhood

Fran Copeland chaired the first meeting of the Temple Beth Am Sisterhood on April 1, at which the organization voted itself into being. The Sisterhood also began the process of electing officers. The members voted to alternate daytime and evening meetings for the next 6 months.

at 11:30 A.M. in the University Center for Religion and Life, south of UNLV on Brussels. It is a BROWN BAG LUNCH (BYO Bag). Sisterhood will provide a dessert and beverage. The agenda will include a discussion of a constitution and the selection of a complete slate of officers.

Membership is open. Any person interested in furthering Judaism may join.

The NEXT MEETING will be Tuesday, May 6th
