WASHINGTON (WNS) — Sen. Carl Levin (D. Mich.), who sponsored a bill approved last year naming a Washington street after Raoul Wallenberg, is now seeking the issuance of an official stamp to honor the famed World War II Swedish diplomat for his rescue of Jews from the Holocaust.

Nevada Small Business To Chart Course For Future At White House Conference In Las Vegas

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The White House Conference on Small Business will hold an open forum in Nevada on Friday, April 25, 1986, at the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas for small business men and women.

"Over 99.6 percent of all Nevada businesses are small businesses," said Catherine S. Hiller, Acting Executive Director of the White House Conference, This high percentage of small firms means that Nevada's economy relies on its smaller entrepreneurs for its growth and vitality."

"Small business people in Nevada don't want

Beth Am Purim Play Repeat Performance

Children from Temple Beth Am's religious school had so much fun with their play for Sunday School that they made a repeat performance for the congregation the following Friday night. Sabbath Services (now permanently at the University Center for Religion and Life) proved to be extra special for the "standing-room-only" crowd of worshippers. Singers and entertainers from the Great Peace March also performed in concert after Services. Why not join the fastest growing and most progressive Reform Congregation in Las Vegas? Services are every Friday night at 8:00 P.M. at the University Center for Religion and Life. Call 645-6624 for information.

to take chances with their future. And the White House Conference is just the opportunity they need to have a chance to speak to the Congress and the President and to ensure their concerns are listened to and addressed," Hiller added.

"I believe that it is essential that we in government at all levels find out from the small business community what its problems are and take advantage of the wealth of experience and ability in that group to solve these problems," said Governor Richard Bryan. "The White House Conference on Small Business offers that opportunity. I am confident that we will have an excellent conference in Nevada in April and I look forward to being a part of it," he continued.

Small business men and women from all parts of the state will attend the conference. They will discuss such issues as government regulation and paperwork, finance, taxation, payroll costs, education and training, procurement, economic policy, innovation, international trade, and the future of an agency for small business.

Conference participants will also elect delegates to represent Nevada at the National White House Conference on Small Business to be held in Washington, D.C., August 17-21, 1986.

The purpose of the White House Conference is to increase the public awareness of the contribution of small business, to identify its problems, to examine the status of women and minorities as small business owners, to assist small business in its role as the Nation's major job creator, to develop recommendations for governmental action, and to review the status of the recommendations from the 1980 Conference.

Registration for the Nevada meeting will begin Thursday, April 24, from 5:00 to 8:00 p.m. at the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas, and will continue Friday, April 25 at 7:00 a.m. The one-day conference program begins at 8:30 a.m.

People interested in attending the White House Conference meeting in Nevada may write the Conference for further information at 1801 K Street, N.W., Suite 1101, Washington, D.C., 20006, or call 202/653-9550. Also one may call their local chambers of commerce, the U.S. Small Business Administration office in Las Vegas, or trade association offices.

Pre-registration is encouraged, but on-site registration is permitted.

PARIS (WNS) — Five chief rabbis from four European countries have urged Pope John Paul II to reconsider plans by the Roman Catholic Church to establish a convent on the site of the Auschwitz death camp in Poland. A letter to the Pontiff was signed by Chief Rabbi Immanuel Jakobovits of Britain; Chief Rabbi Rene Sirat of France; Max Warschawski, chief rabbi of Alsatia; Chief Rabbi Moses Rosen of Rumania; and Chief Rabbi Mordechai Piron of Zurich.
