It is the custom of the Nevada Trial Lawyers to honor each year a Jurist we feel has made an outstanding contribution to our legal system. This year our Board has chosen to break with custom somewhat and has voted to honor the entire Supreme Court.

"Several recent decisions by the Supreme Court of Nevada in the areas of worker's compensation and general tort law have been strongly supportive of victim's or injured plaintiff's rights," said Howard Ecker, NTLA's President, "and we feel these decisions deserve recognition." As a result of that feeling the Board of Governors voted unanimously to honor Justices Mowbray, Springer, Gunderson, Steffen, and Young.

In keeping with tradition, the Jurists of the Year award will be presented at the Membership Luncheon which is the focal point of the NTLA annual convention. The luncheon honoring the Justices will be held on Friday, October 17th.

The 17th Airborne Division Association, composed of men who served as paratroopers and glidermen in the Division during World War II, is conducting a membership drive to locate all former members. UNLV's College of Hotel Administration has announced the formation of the new Hospitality Research and Development Center that will strive to serve as an information source for the hospitality industry.

UNLV hotel administration professor Alan Stutts, a UNLV hotel college faculty member since 1983, will direct the center.

According to Stutts, the center will offer a variety of information and materials on the successful operation of a resort hotel, restaurant, or other enterprise in the hospitality field. The center will help analyze day-to-day and long-term problems in the increasingly complex operations of casinos, food/beverage functions, marketing, front office, finance, engineering, and housekeeping, Stutts said. For years the only way to purchase ballroom dance shoes in Las Vegas was to order them through a local representative and wait for them in the mail.

Now, at Universal Dance Studio, it is possible to purchase your dance shoes, both men's and ladies, at the studio. There will be no waiting and you can try them on before you buy. You can see them on display at the studio and not try to decide your favorite style from a catalog. Although the ballroom dance shoes are meant to be a convenience to students at Universal Dance Studio, anyone, whether attending another ballroom studio or not, is welcome to come in and see the dance shoes in stock with more being ordered all the time. Prices on many styles are less expensive than many of the mail-order variety as well.

While checking out the dance shoes, why not attend one of Universal's Wednesday or Friday guest parties? They begin at 9 p.m. They are fun and you will meet new friends. There is no charge and no obligation. For more information, call 796-0133.
