BEWARE of bogus advertisements offering high paying jobs or Alaska job information for sale.

Alaska's unemployment rate reached 11.3 percent during January 1985 and averaged 9.5 percent for the year. This compares to the national average of 7.2 percent for 1985. Some Alaskan communities experience unemployment as high as 23 percent in any given month.

We urge job seekers not to go to Alaska unless they have a firm offer of employment to avoid the traumatic disappointments facing many newcomers there now. For further information: Alaska Department of Labor, P.O. Box 1149, Juneau, AK 99811.

Don't miss the outdoor melodrama "Alaska" which will be presented at five City parks for three weekends beginning July 12. Admission is free. The performances begin at 8 p.m. and will be held on the City of Las Vegas' Showmobile, a light and sound stage on wheels.

For more information call 386-6211.

Continuing record-breaking dry weather has kept the Las Vegas and Mt. Charleston areas in dangerous fire condition. State and Federal fire restrictions prohibiting fires, stoves, and charcoal to designated campgrounds and picnicgrounds are now in effect at Mt. Charleston to protect the drying vegetation.

According to the area's firefighting agencies, however, fireworks represent one of their biggest fire problems. Bob Wize, District Ranger for the Toiyabe National Forest at Mt. Charleston, explained the danger: "Fireworks are explosives and spark producing devices. Unlike other heat sources, they don't always cool when they hit the ground. They're generally a guaranteed fire starter."

Clark County School District year-round schools are in session. Attendance is important.

If you are new in the community and have elementary age children, contact the district zoning office, 799-5268, to determine your children's assigned schools and obtain registration information.

If your child is assigned to a year-round school you will be advised when and how to register your child during the summer months.

However, if your child will be assigned to a nine-month elementary school, you will receive registration dates and information in order to register them for the 1986-87 school year.
