Terrorist Bases Bombed

Prime Minister Thatcher At ORT School Of Engineering

British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher visited the ORT School of Engineering in Jerusalem during the recent ORT Week celebrations where she met with ORT students and educators. "The ORT system of education," she said, "is a highly effective role model, entirely worthy of emulation in Great Britain or the United States or, indeed, in all countries where technology is receiving increasing emphasis." Hosting Mrs. Thatcher on her visit was Israel Goralnik, Director General, ORT Israel (center). American ORT President Alvin L. Gray noted, "We in ORT know how good the ORT schools are. It is always gratifying to see that appreciation shared by others."

TEL AVIV (WNS) — Israel Air Force jets attacked terrorist bases in south Lebanon. It was the second air strike in five days, triggered by escalating terrorist activity in which the Israel Defense Force sustained casualties. Israeli leaders are blaming Syria for the escalation.

A military spokesman said the targets were in the Shouf area between Beirut and Damur. Israel Radio, monitoring reports from Lebanon, said they were located near the Druze village of Einab and three neighboring villages. They included buildings used by the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, a terrorist group headed by George Habash. According to Lebanese sources, the air raid lasted about 30 minutes and was carried out by American-made F-16s and Phantom jets.

Attend Dedication Of JNF
Klinghoffer Forest, July 28*

During an up-coming four-day visit to Israel, Vice President George Bush will participate in July 28 dedicatory ceremonies for the Jewish National Fund's Leon and Marilyn Klinghoffer Memorial Forest, located outside Jerusalem.

Dr. Joseph P. Sternstein, president of JNF, stated that "We're quite pleased that Vice President Bush, through his participation in the ceremonies, is supporting JNF's stand against international terror." The JNF leader recently called for "a literal flood of tourists to Israel" in defiance of world terrorism. Because of its promotion of tourism to Israel through its missions program, JNF recently won the first Shalom Award from the Israel Government

Let Our Friends Go!

Famed activist leaders Drs. Isai (l.) and Grigory (r.) Goldstein of Tbilisi rested for only two weeks in Israel after a 14-1/2-year struggle with the KGB to emigrate from the USSR. Then the brothers flew to the U.S. for a speaking tour, assisted by the Student Struggle for Soviet Jewry and the Long Island Committee for Soviet Jewry, to highlight the battle by their friends Ida Nudel, Vladimir Slepak and others for their release to freedom. Isai holds a SSSJ poster of Nudel, and Grigory bears a SSSJ poster of himself issued when he was sentenced to the Gulag. In Russia, Isai's 12-year-old son Avi was "twinned" with upcoming bar-mitzvah celebrants around the free world. Now, Avi will mark this milestone at the Western Wall.
