Liberace Celebrates Caesars Palace 20th Anniversary

Currently on tour throughout the U.S. and Canada, Liberace will be in concert with his lavish feathers, rich furs, glittering candelabra, classic automobiles and rhinestone-studded costumes and pianos which have dazzled concert audiences throughout the world.

A child prodigy pianist himself, Liberace introduced 14-year-old Eric Hamelin during a previous engagement at Caesars Palace two years ago. Born in North Adams, Massachusetts, Eric began organ lessons at age five. A few years later he switched to the piano as he felt he was ready for a change. A veteran of the "Merv Griffin Show," Radio City Music Hall, and concerts all across America, he also managed to squeeze in graduating from junior high school, with honors.

The Jovers -- Wilfred and Fe -- have taken their infectious humor and acrobatics to audiences in more than 48 countries. "Our goal," says Wilfred, "is for people not to stop laughing for the entire act."

Liberace, Eric Hamelin and The Jovers are scheduled to perform in the Caesars Palace Circus Maximus Showroom as follows:
