

Leona Iglinski, Candidate,
District F School Trustee

Leona Iglinski, 18-year Clark County resident, has filed for Clark County School Trustee District F; Pat Bendorf is not seeking re-election.

"It's time to put the 'public' back in public education in Clark County and take the specialized interest groups out," said the 51-year-old mother of four and grandmother of six.

"The taxpayers and parents of Clark County deserve better communication with our school system with respect to accountability and productivity for tax dollars spent.

"Taxpayers and parents deserve the best educational value from existing financial resources available to established educational programs. More money doesn't necessarily mean better education.

"If you don't educate the child effectively, the community stands to lose dependable and productive young adults. The properly educated child has a better chance of becoming a responsible citizen."

In an effort to establish a more cohesive community, Iglinski appeals for a greater involvement by the school system with the business community, university system and senior groups.

"The key is credibility. A credible school system supports the concept of economic diversification. We need a strong school system which will assist this community in attracting new business and industry; thus, expanding the tax base and meeting the needs of all community groups," she said.

Iglinski is a product of the University of Illinois, College of Pharmacy, Chicago, Ill., and has attended both the Clark County Community College and University of Nevada, Las Vegas (UNLV).

Active in civic and community affairs Iglinski is serving as: a Court Appointed Special Advocate to the Clark County Juvenile Services; a member of the UNLV Booster Club; St. Viator Parish board member; and serves on the Bishop

Platform

The need for experience, integrity, pride and professionalism is greater than ever before. It is time for the public to be more aware of the duties and responsibilities of the Constable's office. In turn, the Constable shall be more attuned to the public's needs; increasing their public service capability; become more productive, and even innovative in programs of service to the businessman and public at large. A return of the office to integrity, pride and respect with the emphasis on professionalism and no raise in the current fee structure.
