Neo-Nazis Publish Waldheim "Brownshirt" Document

Kurt Waldheim is identified as a member of Hitler's "Brownshirt" stormtroopers in a 1940 court document published by a neo-Nazi newspaper in West Germany this year.

The document is the first showing Waldheim's Nazi affiliations that bears his photograph. Waldheim's passport-size picture appears in the right-hand corner of the document which bears his name at the top.

The document - Waldheim's "personal questionnaire" from his 1940 application for a court position - was published on April 4 of this year in Munich by the neo-Nazi "National Zeitung" newspaper.

Waldheim has repeatedly denied membership in Nazi organizations: He wrote WJC President Edgar M. Bronfman on March 7, "I was not a member of the SA (stormtroopers) or any organization of the Nazi regime." He explicitly stated he was not a member of the SA or the Nazi student union in his formal defense memorandum to the U.S. Justice Department on April 12.

Vince Triggs says the Nevada Legislature will also have to deal with federal budget cuts to state programs, exorbitant insurance costs, and natural resources and flood control.

Vince Triggs says a particular concern of his is crime and delinquency, especially substance and child abuse. Pointing out the leading causes of death among young Nevadans are accidents and suicide, Triggs says, "I am convinced the majority of these needless deaths are drug and alcohol related and, therefore, preventable."

Vince Triggs, an eleven year resident, has served on the Clark County Grand Jury, the Clark County School District Master Plan Committee and was a founding member of the Special Education Parent Advisory Committee. He received his Masters Degree in Education from California State University, Hayward, and studied education and administration at U.N.L.V. Jonna Triggs, his wife, received her Ed.D. from U.N.L.V., also was a former teacher in Clark County, and is currently a child and adolescent psychologist for Children's Behavioral Services.

(He told the Associated Press on April 9: "I was anti-Nazi. All this is lies. I was never in the SA nor in the student union.")

The 1940 document lists Waldheim as a member of the SA and the Nazi student union.

In the box on membership in Nazi affiliated organizations, Waldheim is identified on the form as an "SA-Mann" (SA man) having joined on November 18, 1938. He is listed as belonging to the "NS-Studentenbund" (Nazi student union) as of April 1, 1938.

Waldheim's membership in the stormtroopers came less than a week following the infamous "Kristallnacht" (Night of Broken Glass) - the reign of terror against Austrian and German Jews spearheaded by the SA. Under Nazi party rules, Waldheim must have applied in May of 1938 to be accepted in the SA and submitted an "Aryan" certificate along with a certificate of "good conduct."

Coinciding with the release of the document, the WJC again called on Attorney General Edwin Meese "to enforce the law and place Waldheim on the "watch list" of aliens excludable from the United States."

In April, the Justice Department's Office of Special Investigations concluded that under American law, Waldheim should be excluded as a "Nazi persecutor." (All documents available from WJC, One Park Avenue, New York 10016).
