Shaarei Tefilla Talmud Torah News:
As the High Holy Days approach one thinks in terms of "Teshuvah" - repentance or return. A return from vacation, from camp; a return to our homes, to school and to the Synagogue.

As we return to Hebrew School and to the Synagogue, let us reflect upon the question why? Why a Jewish Religious Education? "It is the Jewish tradition, the Jewish law and the Jewish spirit which prepare us for the crises of life," said Chief Justice Louis D. Brandeis.

A Jewish Religious Education will afford your children insights and appreciation leading to stability of personality, the building of inner strength and resources and a sense of pride in our Jewishness.

In our school the teaching of ethics and values, character building and motivation are very important. The teaching of Tefillah, prayer is a priority in our educational skills. It is most important to feel at home in the Synagogue and with the Siddur. Our curriculum also includes Hebrew Language Arts, Customs & Ceremonies and Jewish History. Judaism is a way of life, and so our education must develop the whole person, intellectually and spiritually.

Teshuvah - Return - May we all, parents and children return with renewed vigor and strength, that will enable us to be blessed with a year of success and accomplishment in all of our endeavors.

Shana tova u'metukahd -- a very sweet and Happy New Year.

Educationally,
Anita Lederman
