Israel Formally Indicts Demjanjuk

JERUSALEM (WNS)
— The State of Israel
formally indicted Ukrainian-born John Demjanjuk on four counts of war crimes, alleging his direct involvement in the killing of nearly 900,000 Jews at the Treblinka death camp
near Warsaw during World War II.
The voluminous
charge sheet, submitted in Jerusalem District Court, accused Demjanjuk of personally torturing and

maiming camp inmates
as they were herded in-
to the gas chambers
and of operating the
machinery that flooded
the chambers with
deadly gas.
Demjanjuk, a former resident of Cleveland, Ohio, who was extradited to Israel last February after being stripped of his U.S.
citizenship, will go on
trial early next year,
probably in January. He has been charged with crimes against the Jewish people; crimes

against humanity;
crimes against persecuted people; and
war crimes. Conviction on any of the counts
carries the death
penalty.
The State's case
hinges on positive
identification of Dem-
janjuk as the Treblinka guard known to inmates as "Ivan the Terrible" for his
brutality.

Demjanjuk, 66,
claims he is a victim of
mistaken identity,
possibly inspired by the Soviet Union. That is
the line his American
attorney, Mark O'Connor, is expected to take
in defense. O'Connor,
who has been granted
permission to plead
before an Israeli court, will be assisted by a
court-appointed Israeli attorney.

The charge sheet
alleges that Demjanjuk, when a Soviet prisoner
of war, volunteered to join Nazi death squads
and swore allegiance to the SS. He was posted at Treblinka where, the charge sheet says, he would stand at the entrance to the gas
chambers and stab
doomed inmates with a
sword or iron stave,
gouging out pieces of
their flesh as they entered the chamber.

also states, "Whenever an SS man or auxiliary (like Demjanjuk) wounded a prisoner on his face, that prisoner was marked for execution immediately. Knowing
this, the accused used
to slice off noses or ears...condemning them
to death."

Demjanjuk is also accused of participating enthusiastically in
especially horrendous
episodes of torture in
the wake of attempted
escapes and
systematically blud-
geoning his prisoners
with a club or lashing
them with a whip.
