

Dutch Royal Couple Visit Israel

JERUSALEM (WNS) — Princess Juliana, Queen Mother of The Netherlands, planted the first sapling in a new forest in lower Galilee named for her daughter, Queen Beatrix, the present sovereign. Juliana and her husband, Prince Bernhardt, arrived in Israel the day before for a five-day visit as guests of the Jewish National Fund (JNF). The ceremony dedicating the Queen Beatrix Forest was attended by 1,000 Jewish guests from Holland and several hundred Israelis of Dutch origin. It was a highlight of the royal visit which is strictly non-political.

Earlier, Foreign Minister Yitzhak Shamir called on the Princess at her hotel. Aides said they spoke of Galilee, of their respective grandchildren and other matters related to the visit. But Shamir took the occasion to gently suggest that The Netherlands move its Embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem.

The royal couple was honored at a gala dinner here where JNF world chairman Moshe Rivlin presented the Princess with a 2,000 year-old perfume bottle unearthed at an archaeological dig in Jerusalem. He noted that the JNF was headquartered in The Hague during its formative period early in the century. Jack Van Dam, president of the Dutch JNF spoke of the Netherlands long record of benevolence toward the Jewish people. Juliana and Bernhardt will visit Kibbutz Sde Nehemia near Kiryat Shemona in upper Galilee and other Kibbutzim founded and settled by Dutch Jews.

"Rock 'n' Roll Forever"

Set For Union Plaza

Firm bookings for the first two segments of "Rock 'n' Roll Forever" at the Union Plaza have been announced by Jim Mydlach Personal Management Inc., the producing unit for the performances.

Set for the initial appearances December 2 through 14 are Fabian, Del Shannon and Lou Christie, who will be followed December 15 through 24 by Chubby Checker and the Wildcats and Gary US Bonds.

Fabian, one of the brilliant teen idols of the late 50s and early 60s, has achieved remarkable success in recent years while touring with his "Good Times Rock 'n' Roll" Show, which has stirred nostalgic and fresh interest in the music of his early era.

Checker, Fabian's fellow Philadelphian and musical contemporary, also was a teen-age sensation and rocked for American Bandstanders, European royalty, Iron Curtain countries, China, South America and Australia.

In a radical departure from the Broadway shows featured at the Union Plaza since its 1961 opening, "Rock 'n' Roll Forever" figures to capitalize on the resurgence of the beat of the 50s and 60s.
