

Stardust Offers Limited Edition Cadillac Slots Jackpot

LAS VEGAS — The Stardust Hotel & Casino began one of the city's most impressive and original slot promotions when it put on display a 1987 Cadillac Allante', a $50,000 limited edition luxury roadster -- one of only 6,000 being sold in the United States this year and the first ever to be delivered in the state of Nevada.

The Allante' was presented to The Boyd Group (owners of the Stardust) by Cashman Cadillac, and can be won on a special dollar slot carousel at the resort.

The Stardust, long famous for its varied and unusual slot giveaways, in addition to the multitude of cash winners on its 1,200 machines, is also currently offering slot jackpots that include a mink jacket, diamond ring, gold, classic Ford Mustang, Honda Spree, Corvette, customized van, and 4-wheeler.

Since 1985, automobile winners from Stardust slot play have more than tripled, with year-to-date figures indicating that even more autos will be given away this year.

The Allante', Cadillac's entry into the ultra-luxury grand touring car class, is designed and built by Pininfarina, of Turin, Italy, the same famous style house that has produced the Ferrari Testarossa and Rolls-Royce Camargue. It has been transported from Italy on "Airbridge," a special Boeing 747 craft.

Industry firsts include an AM/FM cellular telephone power antenna (retractable), and tilt-and-telescope, leather wrapped steering wheel. The Allante' also features the Bosch III Anti-lock braking system, its first use in a production automobile.

The $50,000 value of the Allante' makes it one of the largest slot prizes ever offered by the Stardust.

'Legends In Concert' Star From The Imperial Palace Appears On 'L.A. Law' Episode April 9, 1987

Pete Willcox, who stars in "Legends in Concert" at the Imperial Palace Hotel & Casino as Elvis, recently taped an episode of the NBC-TV show, "L.A. Law" entitled, "Pygmalion," scheduled to air April 9th.

Show regulars, Stuart Markowitz (played by Michael Tucker) and Ann Kelsey (portrayed by Jill Elkenberry) decide to go to Las Vegas to get married. At the wedding chapel, Rev. Sivle (Elvis spelled backwards), wearing his eagle jumpsuit, is to officiate at the ceremony. As Elvis or Sivle, Willcox says, "I have some pieces of advice in the name of the 'King'...and that's where the fun begins. Several of Presley's hit recording titles become part of the dialogue.

This segment of "L.A. Law" will close the 1987 season. It can be viewed locally on KVBC-TV 3, Thursday, April 9th at 10:00 p.m.

WINNIPEG, Man. (JTA) — The Winnipeg Jewish Community Council (WJCC) has allocated $800 (Canadian) to begin a one-year pilot project of delivered kosher hot meals, The Jewish Post reports.

WJCC's Commission on Aging sought the money as interim funding, as it already has asked the Jewish Foundation of Manitoba for a $20,000 (Canadian) subsidy for the project.
