

Canada To Seek Evidence Abroad Against Suspected War Criminals

MONTREAL (JTA) — Canada has begun negotiations with the Soviet Union and the governments of Poland, Romania, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, West Germany and Israel to allow Canadian legal address to an international human rights conference that opened at McGill University Law School here.

Participating in the conference, whose theme is "Nuremberg 40 Years Later: The Struggle Against Injustice in Our Time," are prominent jurists, government ministers, legislators and human rights activists from Canada, the United States and other countries. Its purpose is to impress on the world the need to implement international legislation on war crimes and to safeguard freedom of expression and the defense of human rights.
