

AJC Hails Summit Meeting

NEW YORK - The following statement was issued by Theodore Ellenoff, President of the American Jewish Committee:

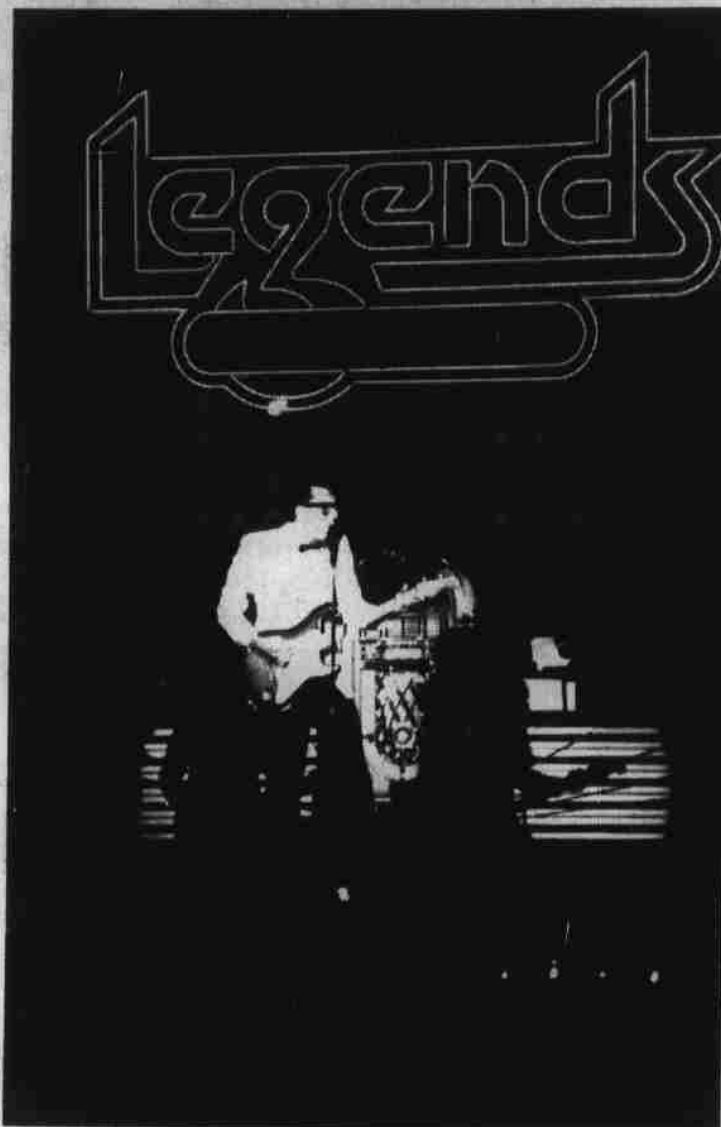

"The American Jewish Committee hails the announcement of a summit meeting between President Reagan and General Secretary Gorbachev as a potentially historic occasion to advance the cause of world peace and promote dialogue between the Soviet and American people.

"At the same time, we welcome this opportunity for the United States to reaffirm our nation's unstinting commitment to the advancement of human rights in the USSR as a cornerstone of the superpower relationship. If the Kremlin seeks a fundamental improvement in bilateral ties and the strengthening of mutual trust, those intentions would be best demonstrated by permitting Jews and others who seek to emigrate to do so without crippling restrictions and delays; further, it would provide genuine religious and cultural freedom for those who stay. Such rights are guaranteed by international agreement to which Moscow is signatory. Soviet performance in this regard would go a long way to assuring the American people of Soviet willingness to fulfill its legal and humanitarian responsibilities. As Democratic and Republican occupants of the White House have noted over the past twenty years: peace and human rights must be indivisible."

The American Jewish Committee is this country's pioneer human relations organization. Founded in 1906, it combats bigotry, protects the civil and religious rights of Jews here and abroad, and advances the cause of improved human relations for all people everywhere.

Alexander Rabinowitch, dean of international programs at Indiana University, will discuss Russia's Bolshevik Revolution Nov. 23, 7:30 p.m., in John S. Wright Hall, Room 103, on the UNLV campus.

Las Vegas Israelite Imperial Palace's 'Legends In Concert' To Be In Parades North And South On The Same Day

On Saturday, December 5, 1987, cast members from the award-winning show "Legends in Concert" will be seen in two different parades on the same day.

At 10:00 a.m. on December 5, those who re-create Elvis Presley, Nat "King" Cole, Bobby Darin and Judy Garland will ride in the Boulder City Parade, south of the city.

Later that day, at 1:00 p.m., cast members of "Legends" will serve as the Grand Marshalls in the North Las Vegas Christmas Parade. Cast members who re-create Marilyn Monroe, Louis Armstrong, Buddy Holly and Liberace will ride in a 1932 Ford Convertible, compliments of the Imperial Palace Auto Collection.

"Legends in Concert," which features live recreations of legendary superstars is presented twice each evening in the Imperial Theatre of the Imperial Palace Hotel & Casino at 8 p.m. & 11 p.m. (except Sundays). Cocktail shows are $11.95 plus tax with a $2.00 surcharge for Saturday performances.

Glankoff Named Vice President At Riviera

LAS VEGAS — Peter Glankoff has been appointed Vice President-Advertising and Public Relations at the Riviera Hotel & Casino, Las Vegas, it was announced by Arthur S. Waltzman, Riviera president.

Peter Glankoff brings the caliber and range of professional marketing experience we require as the Riviera expands and diversifies," said Waltzman.

Glankoff comes to the Riviera as the hotel mounts an ambitious building and development program, scheduled for completion in 1990, that will place it among the largest in the world. The hotel is owned by financier Meshulam Riklis.

Before joining the Riviera, Glankoff, 43, was a partner at England & Company Marketing/Public Relations, New York, where he directed programs for Pillsbury's Haagen-Dazs unit and for Vintners International's Paul Masson, Taylor California Cellars and Great Western and Taylor New York State wine brands.

Earlier, Glankoff held senior account positions at Ruder & Finn and Creamer Dickson Basford public relations agencies before co-founding and heading two marketing companies, Glankoff & Wishner Communications and Park Avenue Partners.

A former magazine writer, Glankoff is a graduate of New York University. He is married with one daughter.
