B'nai B'rith Calls On World To Urge Arabs To Willingly Live In Peace With Israel

WASHINGTON — B'nai B'rith, saddened by the United States' decision to join the United Nations Security Council members in opposing Israel's plans to deport Palestinians involved in disturbances in occupied territories, called on the international community to encourage the Arab states and Palestinian Arabs to declare their willingness to live in peace alongside Israel and not seek to destroy it.

In a statement released here today, Seymour D. Reich, international president of B'nai B'rith, said that Israel administers the West Bank and Gaza Strip as a result of the war forced on it by Arab states in 1967.

"In citing the 1949 Geneva Convention which guarantees the rights of civilians in wartime, the Security Council has paradoxically reminded the world that the state of war unilaterally imposed on Israel by the Arab states is still in force," said Reich.

"In the one exception, Israel returned the entire Sinai peninsula once Egypt declared its willingness to sign a peace treaty."

The B'nai B'rith leader said that Israel is obligated to maintain order in the territories, pending the final resolution of their status. "In discharging that responsibility, Israel has announced it will deport nine Palestinians found to have taken leading roles in recent violence," Reich said. "Instead of attacking that act by Israel, the international community should encourage the Arab states and the Palestinian Arabs to declare their willingness to live in peace alongside Israel, and not seek to destroy it."
