Community Action Against Rape is holding their Spring Daytime Training Session February 29 through March 4. Female and male volunteers are needed to act as crisis intervention counselors for child and adult victims of sexual assault.

Other positions are available. Training is free to those who volunteer their time; cost to all others is $50.00.

For more information and application call 385-2153.

Community Action Against Rape established Clark County's first hotline for deaf and hearing impaired victims of sexual assault. Deaf victims should call their TDD hotline, 366-1641, 7 days a week, 24-hours a day, for immediate crisis intervention counseling. Any hearing impaired person desiring information on sexual assault is encouraged to call. A second TDD machine is available at their office. Call 385-2153 Monday through Friday, 8:30 am to 5:00 pm for information and referral. CAAR hopes the deaf community utilizes this new service.

In celebration of National Vocational Education Week, February 8-14, the staff at the Area Technical Trade Center would like to cordially invite all interested people to attend an Open House, Tuesday, February 9, 1988, at 7 pm. The Trade Center is located at 444 West Brooks Avenue, approximately one mile west of the Community College off Cheyenne Road and Commerce Street. Entertainment will be provided by the Robison Junior High Orchestra and refreshments will be served by the Culinary Art students. Tours of the facility will be conducted by students enrolled in the Hotel Operations program. Come and observe the technical training program at ATTC, where high school students prepare themselves for a promising future. Building portable classrooms, working in local hospitals, and extended care facilities, rebuilding diesel engines, making hotel room reservations, and preparing gourmet meals, is all part of a routine day for students at the Area Technical Trade Center.

The Fifth Annual Job readiness Conference for Clark County School District students will be held at Cashman Field Center on February 29, from noon to 4 pm.

The Conference, one aspect of the Job Incentives for Nevada's Graduates (JING), is designed for seniors who need training to obtain employment and retain a job. Approximately 350 students and 50 support staff members will participate in instructional seminars and contests which will provide students with skills in six areas: career development, job attainment, job survival, personal survival, basic competencies, leadership and self-development.

The JING program is in operation at Basic, Eldorado, Las Vegas, Rancho and Valley high schools, also various probation sites throughout Clark County.

Nevada Reading Week's annual emphasis on reading begins Sunday, February 14 and continues through February 20. Nevada Reading Week is sponsored by the Nevada State Board of Education, the Clark County School District, Silver State Reading Association and the Librarians Association.

The goal of Nevada Reading Week is to support and celebrate reading in the school and home and encourage parents to read to their children and provide reading material at home.

Mayor Ron Lurie will proclaim February 14-20 as Nevada Reading Week in the city of Las Vegas. Other local events include Reading Round-up booths at the Meadows and Boulevard malls, where booklists of recommended reading material will be distributed.

Anyone who would like more information may call 799-8417.

Walk-through registration for spring semester classes at UNLV is set for Jan. 26-27 in the Thomas and Mack Center, and Jan. 28 in Maude Frazier Hall on campus. Late registration will be held Feb. 1-9 in Frazier Hall.

Students who have not pre-registered through the Computerized Advance Registration System (CARS) must enroll in classes during walk-through or late registration.

Senior citizens may enroll in classes tuition-free, on a space available basis. Call Ann Alu at 739-3631 for more information and registration assistance.

Senior citizens who wish to take tuition-free courses at UNLV during spring semester can make registration arrangements now by calling Ann Alu, director of the Senior Citizens Program, at 739-3631.

During the 1986-87 academic year more than 600 seniors took advantage of the program that allows persons 62 years of age and older to enroll in tuition-free classes on a space-available basis.

Dr. Charles Vanda, UNLV's resident impresario and the man responsible for the university's hugely successful Master Series, will retire from his position as director of the UNLV Performing Arts Center to accept the post of assistant to the president for cultural affairs, President Robert C. Maxson announced. The appointment will be effective July 1.

Vanda started the Master Series in 1975, and has operated it ever since. One of the premier cultural programs at UNLV and, indeed, in all of Southern Nevada, the series has consistently presented the world's greatest music and dance ensembles and soloists.

Registration at Sunset High School for the second semester begins at 3:30 pm on Friday, January 22nd, in the cafeteria of the Hyde Park JHS campus 950 Hinson St., any Clark County resident up to age 21 who has not obtained a high school diploma is eligible for enrollment.

Call 799-4160 during school hours 3:30 pm - 10:00 pm for further information.

The author of 40 novels will open the Southwest Gas Distinguished Artists Series spring session Feb. 2 at 7:30 pm in John S. Wright Hall, Room 116. Chelsea Quinn Yarbro will speak on "Working in Genres: The Real World of Writing Books for a Living."

A five-time nominee for the Literary World Fantasy Award, Yarbro writes horror, science fiction, young adult, romantic suspense, and fantasy novels. She currently produces four 100,000 word novels each year.

For more information about the presentation, call UNLV at 739-3401.

If improving your health and wellness is one of your 1988 resolutions, get started on the right track by enrolling in the upcoming session of HEARTEE MEAL MANAGEMENT classes beginning Wednesday, February 3, 1988. The four-week session will be held on successive Wednesday evenings from 7:00 pm to 9:00 pm February 3, 10, 17 & 24 at the Humana Hospital-Sunrise Auditorium.

For further information and registration about these free classes, contact the American Heart Association at 367-1366.

"Mouton Rothschild Paintings for the Labels," an exhibit of original paintings by such celebrated artists as Picasso, Dali, and Warhol, will go on display in UNLV's Museum of Natural History Feb. 2-11.

The free public exhibit features art works that appear on the labels of each year's vintage of Mouton Rothschild wines.

The original paintings were commissioned by the wine company specifically for use on the labels. Miro, Braque, Chagall, and Cocteau, as well as Picasso, Dali, and Warhol, are among the 40 internationally acclaimed artists whose work is included.

Museum hours are 9 am - 5 pm weekdays and 10 am - 5 pm Saturdays. For more information, call the museum at 739-3381.

UNLV's Student Financial Services is offering a new program to both UNLV students and employers in the Las Vegas community.

Job Location and Development, an employment referral service, is a free and effective way of matching qualified college students with employers needing to fill jobs.

All UNLV students, regardless of financial status, can find employment through the program. Job openings are posted daily and referrals are given to students.

For more information about the program, call Wilson at 739-3939.
