

Soviets To Review Data On Wallenberg

TEL AVIV (JTA) — The Post based its story on information provided by Canadian attorney Irwin Cotler, who recently returned from the Soviet Union. Wallenberg is credited with savings tens of thousands of Hungarian Jews from deportation to Nazi death camps during the last year of World War II, when he was posted to the Swedish legation in Budapest. He was arrested by the Red Army there in 1945 and has not been heard from since. The Soviets have contended for 40 years that Wallenberg died in prison in 1947. Cotler said he has collected 20 eyewitness accounts from people who claim they saw him alive as late as 1977, and the Soviet authorities have promised to study his brief, the Post quoted the attorney as saying.
