

New Senior Dimensions Service Center Officially Opens

Ribbon cutting ceremonies were recently held for a new educational and assistance center catering to the area's senior population.

Located at 2350 West Charleston, the center is owned and operated by Senior Dimensions, an insurance program for Medicare-eligible beneficiaries offered by Health Plan of Nevada, a subsidiary of Sierra Health Services.

Most of the services provided at the center will be available only to members of Senior Dimensions, but some can be accessed by any southern Nevada senior citizen.

The center is designed to promote health awareness, educate seniors on assistance programs available in our community, and serve as a resource for the senior population.

Regular programs include blood pressure screenings, lectures on senior related health topics, a videotape and brochure library of social and health concerns and a volunteer recruitment program.

"The center was created to address special concerns and problems unique to senior citizens," stated Erin McDonald, President of Health Plan of Nevada.

"We wanted to provide our 9,000 Senior Dimensions members, as well as the general senior population, with much needed information at one central location," she added.

A number of dignitaries were on hand to witness the ribbon cutting ceremony, enjoy refreshments and tour the facility.

Seniors interested in more information on services available at the center should call 258-8161.

Israelis Give Performance In Hebrew On Moscow Stage

TEL AVIV (JTA) — A play has just been performed on a Soviet stage in Hebrew, for the first time since the Habimah theater left Moscow over more than than 60 years ago.

A group of 15 young students from the Bet Zvi Stage and Film-Acting School in Ramat Gan, led by their teacher, Nina Mikhoels, went to Moscow to participate in an international festival of drama students.

They performed a Hebrew version of "Equus," the British play by Peter Sheffer, directed by Ofira Henning, and were the only group allowed to give two performances, in addition to a sold-out dress rehearsal.

Nina Mikhoels, daughter of the late Solomon Mikhoels, was interviewed in Moscow for reminiscences of her father, the noted Yiddish actor killed on the direct orders of Stalin. The interview is to be included in a documentary film now being made there on the Yiddish actor.

Her sister, Natalya, was interviewed in Moscow for the film last month when she and her daughter, Viktoria, visited the Soviet capital for the inauguration of the Jewish cultural center named after Solomon Mikhoels.
