On Friday, October 26th, the Religious School of Congregation Ner Tamid will be having its first grade Shabbat dinner. Under the direction of both their teachers, Mrs. Michel Zweig, and their music teacher, Alan Hirsh, the children will conduct the prayers before dinner, as well as participate in the service. This is a very special service, for this is the night that the first grade will become consecrated into the temple. Each child will be blessed by the Rabbi and be given a certificate honoring his Consecration. On that evening, Congregation Ner Tamid will have 18 new members. To life!

On Thursday, October 26th at 10:30 a.m. Rabbi Sanford Akselrad will be reviewing the book "Choosing Judaism" by Lydia Kukoff. This book deals with issues relating to intermarriage and conversion. "Choosing Judaism" has been a nationwide best seller for several years and has inspired thousands of people.

The book review is sponsored by Congregation Ner Tamid Sisterhood. This event is open to the general community at no charge.

There will be a luncheon following the book review, at approximately 12:00 noon. For further information, call Betty Schloss at 876-2678 or Gail

The Jewish War Veterans and its Auxiliary will meet at the Best Western Convention Center, Washington and Main, at 7:30 p.m. October 29. Dr. Gino Signorino (Col - USAF Ret), will speak on the proposed VA/Nellis Hospital. It should be interesting. Plan to be there.

New Members Sabbath to be held November 10 at Congregation Ner Tamid.

In keeping with a tradition started last year, Congregation Ner Tamid is hosting a special Sabbath to honor all of its new members who have joined since last year. One special congregant will be chosen as the honoree for who this year's new members "class" will be named. Last year's recipient was Eilleen Kollins.

Since last year over 60 new families have joined Congregation Ner Tamid. More information will follow about this special event, but please save this date for a memorable evening. If you are interested in membership information please call Ruth Fite, the Temple Administrator, at 733-6292.
