

Terror Gangsters Tied To Murder Jailed For Months, IDF Says

TEL AVIV (JTA) — have been in custody for Members of a terrorist several months, the gang believed responsible for the kidnap-murders of two Israeli soldiers earlier this year against the suspects, including the leader of the terrorist squad and others involved in its criminal acts. But three key members, including the actual killers of the soldiers, apparently have fled the country, the IDF said.

The gang has been linked to Hamas, a Moslem fundamentalist group that operates mainly in the Gaza Strip. Its victims, Avi Sasportas and Ilan Sa'adon, both from Ashkelon, are believed to have been abducted while hitching rides home from an IDF base near Gaza.

Sasportas had been missing since Feb. 16 when his remains were discovered on May 7, buried in a woods between the Hodaya and Givati junctions. Sa'adon, reported missing on May 3, has never been found. But the IDF says its investigation supports the theory that he, too, was murdered and is buried somewhere in the area.

Security personnel have continued the search. But they advised his family that their son must be presumed dead.

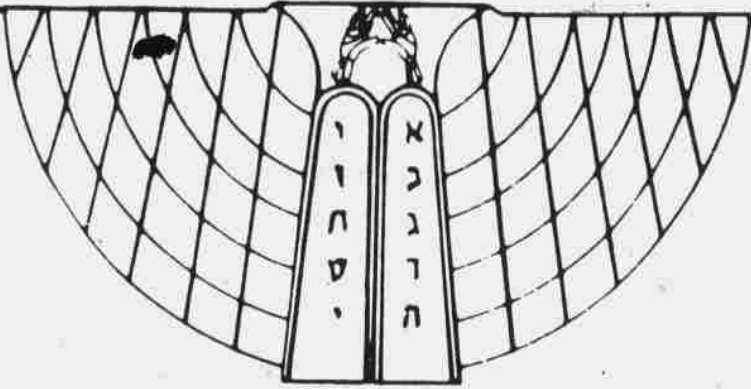

2 Year Manhunt Ends

a manhunt for two years. Hassan, 20, was suspected of numerous Molotov cocktail assaults on Israeli vehicles in Kalkilya, and attacks on local Arabs whom he believed were cooperating with Israel.

The early morning shooting occurred in the Jordan Valley near Moshav Mehula, where an IDF patrol spotted two men acting suspiciously and the two were shot. Hassan was treated at the scene by a military doctor, but died of his wounds.

There have been numerous infiltration attempts from Jordan in recent months, so settlements in the vicinity were put on alert while the IDF searched the area. Nothing was found and the alert was canceled.

MEET VICTOR MOEA'

One of New York City's premier hairstilists relocated in Las Vegas!

Victor Moea' (pronounced Mo-Ay') loved Las Vegas so much that he packed up a lifetime in New York City, as the owner of his own all-purposed salon, and moved west.

A specialist in Body Waves, Perms and Cuts, as well as complete hair coloring and styling techniques, he studied with such theatrical and beauty make-up artists as Jim La Forte and Mark Traynor.

Victor was artistically involved as a hairstylist for NBC Studios. Magazine editors took notice of his skills and displayed photographs of his hair work in his publications. Victor's print credits include "New Ideas for Hairstyling," "Set and Style," "Hair Do," "Hair Styles and Care," and others, both here and abroad. He has been seen in the pages of the widely read New York Daily News, Estetica in Italy and C.V.C. in France. The Moea' touch of glamour was also included in such trade publications as "American Hairdresser," "Wella News," and "Metro Salon News."

The talented Victor Moea' is pleased to make his home in Las Vegas. Undoubtedly, New York's loss is Nevada's gain!
