

Israel Sends Cabinet Secretary To Arrange Trilateral Meeting

JERUSALEM (JTA)— Foreign Minister Moshe Arens is to have there with U.S. Secretary of State James Baker and Egyptian Foreign Minister Esamat Abdel Meguid of Egypt. The trilateral parley, expected to take place within the next few weeks, is intended to lay the groundwork for an Israeli-Palestinian dialogue in Cairo early next year.

That scenario came alive with the announcement in Washington that Egypt accepted Baker's five-point guidelines for the dialogue. Israel's Inner Cabinet of senior ministers accepted the plan on Nov. 5.

The decision to send Rubinstein was made by the four most senior ministers: Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir, Vice Premier Shimon Peres, Arens and Defense Minister Yitzhak Rabin.

David Levy and Yitzhak Moda'i to get a mandate from the party to saddle Arens with a new set of conditions.

Levy, a deputy premier who is minister of construction and housing, and Moda'i, the minister of economics and planning, told reporters after the Cabinet meeting that the Egyptian reply to Baker was not drafted by Egypt, but by the PLO.

They and Sharon, who is minister of industry and trade, oppose Shamir's idea for Palestinian elections in the West Bank and Gaza Strip. The dialogue in Cairo is supposed to hammer out arrangements for those elections.

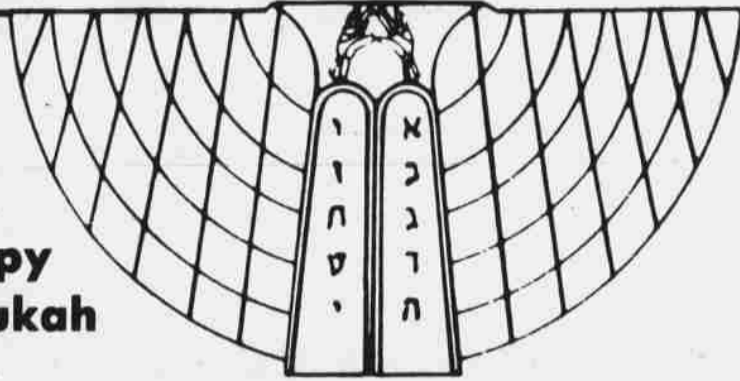

One of Israel's main assumptions in accepting Baker's points was that it could refuse to deal directly or indirectly with the PLO.

Likud Hard-Liners Mobilizing

Meanwhile, the triumvirate of Likud hard-liners opposed to the Baker plan is calling for a meeting of the party's Central Committee to be held before Arens leaves for his three-way meeting.

It is apparently the intention of Ariel Sharon,

Over twelve hundred USY members and advisors will gather in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania for the thirty-ninth Annual International Convention of United Synagogue Youth. The Convention, which begins on Sunday, December 24 and concludes on Thursday, December 28 will be held at the Wyndham Franklin Plaza Hotel.

MEET VICTOR MOEA'

One of New York City's premier hairstlists relocated in Las Vegas!

Victor Moea' (pronounced Mo-Ay) loved Las Vegas so much that he packed up a lifetime in New York City, as the owner of his own all-purposed salon, and moved west.

A specialist in Body Waves, Perms and Cuts, as well as complete hair coloring and styling techniques, he studied with such theatrical and beauty make-up artists as Jim La Forte and Mark Traynor.

Victor was artistically involved as a hairstylist for NBC Studios. Magazine editors took notice of his skills and displayed photographs of his hair work in his publications. Victor's print credits include "New Ideas for Hairstyling," "Set and Style," "Hair Do," "Hair Styles and Care," and others, both here and abroad. He has been seen in the pages of the widely read New York Daily News, Estetica in Italy and C.V.C. in France. The Moea' touch of glamour was also included in such trade publications as "American Hairdresser," "Wella News," and "Metro Salon News."

The talented Victor Moea' is pleased to make his home in Las Vegas. Undoubtedly, New York's loss is Nevada's gain!
