

Chanukah, You Light Up Our Lives

no avail because he had not learned the most elementary principle — to light the fire.

Unless we are fired with the conviction of what we do, then what we do will be essentially meaningless. Unless we find that we are warmed by enthusiasm any project in which we engage will eventually cool off.

The spark that kindles a world, a people or a person illuminates the causes in which we are involved and fires us with the energy to carry through. The Maccabees of old proved that men who possess a spark of the divine will leave their brand on history.

As a writer once noted:

For centuries the Menorah burned constantly. In its light a nation walked.

By its inspiration a people lived.

Rabbi Bernard S. Raskas is rabbi emeritus of Temple of Aaron in St. Paul, and the author of the trilogy, "Heart of Wisdom."
