

Las Vegas Wins Handicapping Title

WORLD CHAMPION — Stardust Race and Sports Book Director Scott Schettler, left, congratulates 1989 World Football Handicapping Champion Sheldon Grozalsky. Grozalsky won $107,000 plus a $25,000 free-roll bet on this year's Super Bowl.

Sheldon Grozalsky of Las Vegas has claimed the 1989 title and $107,000 in the Stardust Hotel's World Football Handicapping Championship.

He will also be entitled to a $25,000 free-roll bet on the Super Bowl.

In the Stardust's handicapping championship, each entrant paid $2,500 for the privilege of selecting one professional or college team each week. If the team selected won, the entrant stayed in the contest for another week. If the team lost, the entrant was out of the contest. The last remaining contestant took all entry fees and the free-roll Super Bowl bet.

For the final four weeks of the contest, only two contestants remained.

"The last four weeks were very close," Grozalsky said. "In the Washington/UCLA game, I had Washington and 3½. They were down by six or seven points until the final drive of the game. They scored the winning touchdown in the final seconds and covered the spread."

Grozalsky is retired from the garment industry in New York and has been handicapping sports for

Las Vegas Israelite American ORT Federation National Conference January 18-21 Simcha Dinitz To Be The Featured Speaker

Simcha Dinitz, (pictured above, Chairman of the World Zionist Organization and the Jewish Agency Executive, and former Israeli Ambassador to the United States, will be the featured speaker at the about 10 years.

"You really have to hand it to this guy," said Stardust Race and Sports Book Director Scott Schettler. "Some of the best handicappers in the world enter this contest and it is no small feat to

Happy Chanukah

American ORT Federation National Conference to be held January 18-21 at the Grand Hyatt Hotel in New York City, announced AOF president David B. Hermelin. National Conference Co-Charimen are Henry Hindin of Chicago and Gil Abramson of Baltimore.

Delegates from American ORT chapters and divisions throughout the United States will attend a simulated ORT school where they will receive updates on the ORT global network. Featured guests will include Joseph Harmatz, Director-General, World ORT Union; Israel Goralnik, Director-General, ORT Israel; and Dido Alon, Public Relations Liaison, ORT Israel.

Highlights will also include a tour of special programs of the Bramson ORT Technical Institute in New York which is now serving hundreds of newly arrived Soviet Jews with courses in English as a Second Language, bookkeeping, data processing, computer programming and various technical subjects.

Firsthand reports and new videos will also be presented on the recently dedicated ORT Braude International Institute of Technology in Karmiel, Israel, on the ORT training process from the instructors' perspective, and on the difficulties of the resettlement process for new immigrants to the U.S. and Israel.

Outstanding ORT leaders will receive the ORT Man of the Year and William Haber awards. The Chapter of the Year Award will be presented to an ORT chapter that has significantly expanded its membership and fund raising activities.

The American ORT Federation supports the international network of ORT vocational/technical schools, educating 200,000 students in 35 countries in fields ranging from auto mechanics and welding to computer operations, robotics, and laser technology.

out pick them."

Grozalsky also had some kind words for the Stardust.

"The Stardust gives the bettors a break. They have a chance to bet the line when it first comes out on Sunday and you can bet real high. It is the best book in Las Vegas," he said.

HAPPY HANUKKAH

from the
Boyd Group

Sam Boyd's
CALIFORNIA
HOTEL • CASINO • RV PARK
DOWNTOWN

SAM'S TOWN
HOTEL, GAMBLING HALL and BOWLING CENTER,
BOULDER HIGHWAY/NELLIS

Sam Boyd's
FREMONT
HOTEL & CASINO
DOWNTOWN LAS VEGAS

SAM'S TOWN
GOLD RIVER
HOTEL (of CAMELINA HALL)
2700 S. CASINO DR., LAUGHLIN, NV 89046

STARDUST
Las Vegas, Nevada
HOTEL and CASINO ON THE STRIP

