Reid To Recognize 11-Year-Old 'Hero' Red Rock Elementary's Chad Pearce

U.S. Senator Harry Reid visited Red Rock Elementary School (408 Upland Blvd.), Thursday, Feb. 15 at 9 a.m. to award 11-year-old Chad Pearce with a Certificate of Congressional Recognition for saving a kindergarten student from an oncoming truck.

Pearce, a 5th grader at Red Rock, was crossing the street on his way to school last month when he pushed the kindergarten student out of the path of an oncoming truck. Pearce was hit by the truck and suffered a broken arm.

"Chad moved quickly at great risk to himself to save a younger student," Reid said. "His courageous action in a life-threatening situation makes him a real hero in our community. I am proud of him and honored to recognize his bravery with a Congressional award."

PLO Executive Committee Begins Process Of Changing Covenant

NEW YORK, NY - The PLO Executive Committee took further steps recently toward compliance with the Oslo agreements by creating a committee to draft a replacement for the PLO covenant.

It appears that Palestinian Authority Chairman Yasir Arafat has the support of a majority of the Palestinian National Council (PNC) to comply with the Oslo requirements, as demanded by Israeli Prime Minister Shimon Peres.

Peres has stated that the covenant must be changed as a prerequisite to starting final status negotiations on Palestinian autonomy this spring. Arafat reaffirmed his commitment to change the covenant during his meeting with Secretary of State Warren Christopher earlier this month.
