

Scene In Sun City Las Vegas

By Sydell Miller

DR. CAROL HARTER, president of UNLV, was guest speaker when over 100 members of the Sun City Women's Club celebrated Women's History Month. It was an honor that such an important and outstanding personality would accept the invitation to appear, by the president of the club, ROSLYN FARHI. DR. HARTER was an administrator and teacher at GENESEO in Upstate NEW YORK. She has been married for 35 years and has two sons. Her husband still holds a position in NEW YORK. She was accompanied by her mother, KAY CLANCEY, of WANTAGH, NEW YORK. We were impressed not only by her intelligence but also her charm and grace. during the question and answer period she promised to look into bringing UNLV classes to SUN CITY. The university wants to reach out to the seniors.

The Tournament Players Club was the spectacular setting for the Book & Author Luncheon sponsored by the Brandeis University National Women's Committee. ARLENE ZONDER is president. SUSIE SHAMES and JAN TRAUM were the co-chairs. Committee members who make this a memorable event were GLORIA BELSKY, DORIS BERNS, LORRAINE & HOWARD COLEMAN, GAY GOLDSTEIN, LORRAINE JOSEPHS, DOROTHY COOPER and THELMA HALPERT. The authors featured that afternoon: DOUGLAS UNGER, CAROLE CASE, RONALD A. FARRELL and MYLES H. BADER.

We were all IRISH on St. Paddy's Day when KEVAN QUINN, tenor, came to Mountain Shadows to entertain us with songs like Danny Boy. He sang, he danced, he was a delight. It was family night. His wife RHONDA CARLSON played the piano; his 5-year-old daughter LAURA performed and his mother BARBARA WHITE belted out some terrific saloon songs. KEVAN is the production manager for the pirate show at the MGM. He and RHONDA met while doing summer stock in MANCHESTER, NEW HAMPSHIRE. RHONDA is from DODGE CITY, KANSAS. The concert was co-sponsored by Brown Bag Concerts.

The Community Theatre Club hosted an Open House for all residents to enjoy watching one of their workshops. FLO MODITZ is the president. MORT HARRIS wrote the scene that was performed by SELMA SORIANO, GLORIA BELSKY, RICK MORGAN, HENRY HARRIS, MALCOLM SCHIFFMAN, MARGY HILL and SHIRLEY GERMAIN. RUTH RUDERICK played the organ and JACK PANTALEO sang beautiful Italian love songs. He dedicated them to his love wife MARIE, who was home baking cakes and cookies for a church fundraiser. GEORGE HABER was the announcer and curtain puller.

HENRIETTA GLASS, mother of IRENE EPSTEIN, passed away at the age of 105 1/2. She was busy until the end, doing her toe touches and enjoying good health. RABBI LOUIS LEDERMAN officiated at the funeral and called it a "celebration of life." She attended services at TEMPLE BET KNESSET BAMIDBAR. SIMON & IRENE EPSTEIN are among the first 40 residents to live in SUN CITY.

SUMMERLIN CHAPTER, Jewish Women International, formerly B'nai B'rith Women, installed their officers for 1996-'97 at a Buffet Breakfast at the SANTA FE HOTEL. President, EVELYN SILVERMAN; Vice Presidents, MARILYN ROBBINS, ELAINE GUBETZ, MICKEY COVNER, DARLEEN VATURI and SELMA SORIANO; Corresponding Secretary, DEBBIE LEDERER; Financial Secretary, MARSHA SCHNEIDERMAN; Recording Secretary, BEA KAPLAN; Treasurer, GLADYS HANDWERKER, and Counselor, HELEN ZLISER. Installing officers was SYDELL MILLER. Entertainment by SAMMY KING, ELAINE HARRIS did a great job as Installation Chairman.

Two bus loads of fun-loving people went to PLAYERS ISLAND in MESQUITE. The buffet was great as was the show, "ISLAND FEVER." Among the group was SHIRLEY & BARRY BARONDESS, HERB & RUTH GOLDEN, MYRA & SYD KLIFFER, NORMA & HARRY ELLMAN, MIMI & JERRY SPIELBERG, HELEN & LEN LEVITSKY, MIMI & SHERMAN SINGER, FRED & PAUL GREENFIELD, RUTH & HERSCHEL WEINROTT, SHIRLEY & LIONEL MILES, MORT & NORMA HAYNES, HELEN & ABE SPARBER, DICK & RICKY SERLIN, JANICE & IRV BARON and ELAINE KRAUS.

Clinton Praises Energy, Belief, Conviction, Passion Of UJA Young Leadership Conference Participants

CLINTON AT UJA EVENT - President Clinton greets Jennifer Fisher at the UJA Young Leadership Conference held in Washington. Jennifer's father Robert, chairman of the Young Leadership Cabinet, was one of 3,000 Jewish activists ages 25-45 to attend the 3-day conference.

WASHINGTON, DC - By the time President Clinton took the stage during the first night ceremonies of the 3-day UJA Young Leadership Conference, the 3,000 25-45 year old Jewish activists from across the country were primed. Earlier in the day they had heard Malcolm Hoenlein, executive vice-chair of the Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations, exhort them to bring a distinctly Jewish brand of activism into the public arena. And that's just what they intended.

The cheers from the overflow crowd astounded even Clinton, who was making his first U.S. appearance after returning from the "Summit of the Peacemakers" in Egypt and a stopover in Israel. "I've been trying to convince everyone else in Washington to delay the onset of this year's campaign, and you aren't helping very much. But you have my permission."

On a more serious note, Clinton said: "We have resolved to strengthen our cooperation with all those who will stand against terror in the Middle East. We are committing more than $100 million to the task. We are increasing our intelligence sharings and we are developing new methods to combat violence there. We are convinced that, ultimately, fear will overcome the adversity of terror, because overcoming that kind of adversity is the genius of the
