BUTLER AND McFADYN,

The Butte Inter Mountain Says They are Hay Seeds. The Butte Inter Mountain has this to say about a Nevada watermelon sent to that beg by Roy Butler and Jim McFayden:

"Under the cover of the box was the following note, addressed to Mr. O'Gorman, of Butte.

"A Vegas watermelon grown on the ranch of Roy G. Butler and James A. McFayden. It is very fine eating when properly cooled. Water twice a week a small amount on top only."

"Mr. O'Gorman, never suspecting that he might be harboring an infernal machine, he thrust his hand below the excelsior, but he took it out with a hoop. Blood was streaming from three fingers, and with cuss words more forcible than mild Mr. O'Gorman began to express his opinion about 'Vegas melons'; he turned the box upside down and dumped its contents on the floor. Then there was exposed something in the shape of a watermelon, the top resembling a porcupine's back, to thickly was it studded with quills.

"Many persons some well versed in flowers and plants, called to inspect the 'melon,' as Butler called it, but all declared they had never seen anything just like it before. The best any of them could do was to say that it was a species of cactus. Mr. Butler, who sent the curiosity, is well known in Butte, where he lived for many years. He lives on a ranch at Las Vegas."

THE IMPERIAL HOTEL.

It's the Largest Structure Thus Far in Las Vegas.

Messrs Weaver & Skinner, have opened the Imperial Hotel and Cafe, and it's the largest structure thus far built in the town. Meals will be served at all hours and a Sunday dinner will be a special feature of the place. The place will be well equipped for comfortable accommodation of the trade and rooms both single and double as the guests may desire. The proprietors of this institution will strive to please if a trial is given them.

SAM M. ROBERTS.

Of the Tribune-Review Blows Off Hot Air.

The Tribune-Review, has received a copy of LAS VEGAS TIMES, from Col. Jim Brown, who formerly conducted the iconoclastic Butte Times. The colored ink now at Las Vegas, Nevada, in conjunction with Frank Reber, another Butte man. Judging from the colored ink, Las Vegas in a few years will outgrow Chicago.

At this time Las Vegas is a city of tents, and hastily constructed frame buildings, on the line of railroad leading from Salt Lake to Los Angeles. When Col. Brown gets going there will be things doing at Las Vegas, for the colonel is aggressive and enterprising. He is capable, if anyone is, of establishing law and order where chaos reigns supreme, and it would not surprise this paper if in conjunction with his journalistic duties the colonel would become mayor of Las Vegas, thereby reflecting a little glory on snicky Butte. Success Col. Jim!

RUSHING THINGS

Lumber Yards Full of What is Needed Most in Vegas.

The Cope Shepherd Lumber company, was in receipt of several heavy shipments of lumber during the week and they can comply with any demand made upon them from now on. Up to the time the San Pedro road was operated by the construction department any kind of freight was no certain calculation. Now conditions are different, as the freight trains make scheduled time and freight arrives promptly.

The Cope-Shepherd company, took advantage immediately of the trains running regularly and several of the trains were laden with lumber consigned to this popular firm.

There will be no lumber famine in Vegas as long as this popular firm does business and as for prices, this will be in conformity with good business methods and equitable fairness as between them and their patrons.

JUDGE BOYLE.

Sends Word That he is Going Size Up This Burg.

W. M. Terriberry, who is looking over the mineral possibilities of this country had the pleasure of riding on the same train with Judge Boyle of Butte as far as this place. The judge sent his compliments to the Times gang and said that he would return to Vegas and give the town a whirl before he returns to the "Smoky City".

Judge Boyle, is one of the most popular officials Butte has ever had. He was elected twice, one term after another and had he desired a renomination he would have been elected again. The judge is no third termer, but he is just the make up of a man that Las Vegas needs and it is with satisfaction we learn that he is coming to Vegas with the intention of hanging up his clothes and pitching his tent in Vegas.
